

Contents

The Earle Mack School of Law 2008-2009 Graduate Course Descriptions

Law Courses

LAW 511 Intro to Law & Legal Methods

This course will introduce incoming J.D. students to the American legal system, sources and types of law, jurisprudential theories and legal analysis.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 601 Legal Methods I

This course provides instruction in the fundamentals of predictive writing and legal research, including LEXIS and Westlaw training. Students will receive an in-progress grade at the end of the fall quarter.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 602 Legal Methods II

This course continues Law 601. Students will learn additional legal research skills and will be introduced to persuasive writing techniques. Students will receive an in-progress grade at the end of the winter quarter.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 604 Torts I

This course examines the general theories of civil liability for injuries to persons or property. Topics include liability for intentional misconduct and an introduction to the law of negligence, as well as defenses to claims of tort liability.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 605 Torts II

This course is a continuation of Law 604 and further develops the law regarding liability for and defenses to negligence. Additional topics include professional liability, strict liability, vicarious liability, and an introduction to products liability.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 606 Contracts I

This course examines the enforcement of promises and bargains. Topics include contract formation, the doctrine of consideration, formalities including the Statute of Frauds and the parole evidence rule, and performance and breach of contract.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 607 Contracts II

This course is a continuation of Law 606 and further develops the law of contracts. Additional topics include the effect of changing circumstances on the bargain, remedies, and third party rights and obligations.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 608 Civil Procedure I

This course examines the civil litigation process with an emphasis on the federal courts. Topics include remedies, pleadings, pre-trial motion practice, discovery, motions for summary judgment, trial procedure, and appellate review.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 609 Civil Procedure II

This course is a continuation of Law 608 and further develops the law of civil procedure, particularly in the federal courts. Additional topics include subject matter jurisdiction, venue, the Erie doctrine, joinder, and supplemental jurisdiction.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 610 Property I

This course examines the basic elements of the law of real and personal property. Topics include ownership and possession of property, gifts, the rights of bona fide purchasers, adverse possession, estates and future interests in real property.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 611 Property II

This course is a continuation of Law 610 and further develops issues in the ownership of real property. Additional topics include landlord tenant law, the real estate transaction, the regulation of land use including easements and zoning.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 612 Criminal Law

This course examines the principles that underlie liability for criminal conduct. Topics include the definition of crimes and the principles of punishment, the required acts and mental states necessary for liability.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 614 Constitutional Law

This course examines the basic issues in federal constitutional law. Topics include the role of the courts in interpretation of the Constitution, the scope of legislative and executive powers, and the limitation of the powers of state and local government.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 616 Intro to Interw Negot & Counsl

This course develops the practical lawyering skills of interviewing and counseling. Students will also be introduced to negotiation theory and practice.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 617 Constitutional Law II

This course covers issues in substantive and procedural due process and equal protection under the law. It also introduces issues related to personal rights, as embodied by the First Amendment.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 618 First Amendment

This course examines speech and religion clauses of the First Amendment. It considers the philosophical and historical foundation of free expression and analytical problems in First Amendment jurisprudence.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 620 Lawyering Practice Seminar

This seminar focuses on learning from experiences, both in the Co-Op and in later professional practice. Students will study the roles being played by lawyers and the institutions where lawyers work. They will discuss their fieldwork experiences.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 621 Co-Op

Co-Op is a two quarter field placement in a corporation, law firm, judicial office, public interest organization, or government agency. Students must attend a pre-placement orientation and will work 20-25 hours per week and satisfy or exceed the supervisor's expectations.

Credits: 5.00 to 7.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 622 Professional Responsibility

This course will examine the ethical duties of lawyers toward clients, courts, and society. The course emphasizes the Model Rules of Professional Conduct, the Model Code of Professional Responsibility, and relevant case law.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 623 Law and Economics

This course examines the law through the economist's lens. We will see whether a cohesive economic theory can be applied to explain the law, and examine the efficiency of current legal provisions.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 624 Legal History

This course surveys Anglo-American legal history from the origins of the common law through the 20th century. The course will focus on the development of both legal institutions and substantive law.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 625 Criminal Proc: Investigations

This course considers the Fourth Amendment's protection against unreasonable search and seizure, the Fifth Amendment's right to Due Process and against compulsory self-incriminations, and the Sixth Amendment's right to counsel.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 626 Criminal Proc: Prosect & Adjud

This course will study the basic rules of criminal procedure, beginning with the institution of formal proceedings. It will emphasize prosecutorial discretion, preliminary hearings, the grand jury, criminal discovery, guilty pleas and plea bargaining.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 627 Sentencing Law

This course examines theories of sentencing, sentencing regimes, use of guidelines, and constitutional limits on sentencing.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 628 White Collar Crime

This class will present an overview of white collar criminal litigation. The course will emphasize federal law and focus on liability for corporations and corporate executives, fraud, obstruction of justice, and related matters.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 630 Evidence

This course studies the law governing proof of disputed factual matters in criminal and civil trials, including issues of relevancy, competency, hearsay, and other exclusionary rules, and the privilege of witnesses.
Credits: 4.00 to 5.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 631 Civil Litigation Remedies

This course will help students gain an understanding of the law and policies relating to equitable remedies (specific performance and injunctions), damages at common law (compensatory and punitive damages), and restitution.
Credits: 3.00 to 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 635 Sales

This course reviews contract formation issues from the perspective of Uniform Commercial Code Article 2 and focuses on significant commercial contractual issues such as formation, performance (delivery and payment), title to goods and third party rights.
Credits: 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 636 Payment Systems

This course introduces the student to the law of negotiable instruments, primarily checks and promissory notes. The course focuses on Articles 3 (Negotiable Instruments) and 4 (Bank Deposits and Collections) of the Uniform Commercial Code.
Credits: 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 637 Secured Transactions

This course provides an introduction to the law governing contractually created interest on personal property used to secure payment or performance of obligations.
Credits: 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 638 Real Estate Transactions

This upper-level property course studies the legal aspects of residential and commercial real estate sales, development and finance.
Credits: 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 640 Trusts and Estates

This course will survey the law of gratuitous transfers and inheritance. The class will cover the creation, execution, alteration and interpretation of wills as well as the creation, revocation and interpretation of trusts and trust instruments.
Credits: 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 645 Employment Discrimination

This course studies the federal and state statutes and case law that prohibit employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, gender, religion, national origin, age, disability and sexual orientation.

Credits: 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 646 Employ Discrim: Draft Approach

This course studies the federal and state statutes and case law that prohibit employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, gender, religion, national origin, age, disability and sexual orientation.
Credits: 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 647 Sexual Orientation and the Law

The course will focus on the interaction between sexual orientation and the law. Students will study how the transformation of social attitudes around sexual orientation plays out in various doctrinal areas.
Credits: 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 650 Federal Income Tax

This course is intended to give students an understanding of the fundamental legal and policy concepts underlying the federal individual income tax. The course will focus on the statutory framework of U.S. tax laws, and particular judicial authorities.
Credits: 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 651 Enterprise Tax

This course will survey the differing federal income tax treatments of the various forms of business and investment activities, including both corporations and partnerships.
Credits: 5.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 660 Administrative Law

This course studies the law governing administrative agencies in the task of carrying out governmental programs; interrelations of legislative, executive and judicial agencies in development of public policy; decision-making processes and internal procedures.
Credits: 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 661 State and Local Government Law

This course examines state and local governments, their role in setting public policy, and the interrelationship between them. Areas to be explored may include forms and structures of state and local governments, and selection of public services.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 665 Public International Law

This course will examine the nature and sources of international law; international organizations, including the United Nations and the International Court of Justice; and the developing law of human rights.
Credits: 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 668 Immigration Law

This course covers issues in immigration law including inadmissibility and deportability, relief from removal, asylum and refugee status, citizenship, nonimmigrant and immigrant visas, and administrative and judicial review.

Credits: 3.00 to 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 670 Family Law

This course will examine the legal and policy issues relating to the family. Topics will include marriage, including barriers to marriage and the legal relationships between spouses; parents and children; divorce and its incidents, including child support.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 675 Bankruptcy

This course will examine both state law remedies and priorities and the federal Bankruptcy Code. Topics will include elements common to all bankruptcies, as well as Chapter 7 liquidations in the consumer context, and Chapter 8 and 13 wage-earner payout.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 680 Education Law

This course will cover constitutional and statutory law and policy issues relating to public schools, including rights of parents, teachers and students, school discipline, religion, speech, discrimination, and disability rights.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 681 Sports Law

This course will involve application of various legal doctrines (including contracts, labor, antitrust, tax, torts, remedies, arbitration and constitutional law) to a broad range of sports-related activities.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 700 Health Law I: Reg Qual & Access

This course examines all aspects of medical errors and quality in health care, including malpractice suits, licensing, staff privileging of doctors, and current regulatory approaches. It will also look at issues of patient rights and autonomy.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 701 Hlth Law II: Reg Cost/Access

This course examines the history of the American health care system and will consider the tensions between costs and access to care. Topics will include the federal Medicare and Medicaid systems, cost controls through health insurance and federal regulation.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 702 Legal Iss in Hlth Care Finance

This class will consider basic economic concepts related to health care finance and private insurance. Topics will include managed care organizations and provider owned networks, as well as the effect of major federal payment programs.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 703 Bioethics

This class explores the legal and ethical issues surrounding the development of new biological technologies. Topics may include the research bioethics, assisted reproductive technology, genetics, issues surrounding death and dying, and organ transplantation.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 704 Food and Drug Law

This course considers the federal regulation of products subject to FDA jurisdiction, including food, human prescription and nonprescription drugs, animal feed and drugs, biological and blood products, medical devices, and cosmetics.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 705 Securities Regulation

This course examines securities market regulation, including registration, exemption, and remedies under the Securities Act of 1933; reporting and accounting standards under the 1934 Act; the proxy system; and the regulation of broker-dealers.

Credits: 3.00 to 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 706 Mental Health Law

This course will focus on providing students with an understanding of some of the most important issues for which the mental health professions and behavioral science research can provide information that is relevant to courts and attorneys.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 707 Legislation

This course examines theories of legislative behavior, beginning with an examination of the process by which statutes are generated. It then considers theories of representation and interpretation and their implications.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 708 Issues in Death and Dying

This course examines courts' and legislatures' struggles to develop a system for end-of-life decision-making that protects and effectuates patient autonomy without risking patient abuse by family members.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 709 Public Health Law

This course is to introduce students to the legal issues likely to arise in the government's attempts to regulate personal behavior. We will examine the legal context of the relationship between the individual and the community.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 710 Products Liability

This course focuses on the theories and scope of liability arising from the distribution and sale of harm-producing products. Topics include the concept of defectiveness, design problems, duty to warn and problems with causation.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 711 Health Care Fraud & Abuse

This course examines the major federal and state legislation for providers who seek reimbursement under governmentally funded health care programs including the Medicare and Medicaid Anti-Kickback statute, the False Claims Act, and the Stark I and Stark II

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 712 The Law of Medical Malpractice

This course covers medical liability issues arising from the treatment relationship between health care providers and their patients. Topics include the history of the medical malpractice tort, and its evolution as a "crisis," informed consent.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 730 Copyright

This course surveys the law of copyright. Topics to be discussed include the subject matter of copyright; ownership and transfer of copyrights; the rights afforded to copyright owners; duration of copyright rights; infringement; and remedies.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 731 Trademarks & Unfair Competit

This course analyzes the law of unfair commercial practices. It covers trademarks, service marks, trade names, trade dress, infringement, interference with contractual relationships, appropriation of intellectual property created by another, and defamation.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 732 Patents

This course provides an introduction to patent law, focusing upon the requirements of patentability (patentable subject matter, utility, novelty and non obviousness), infringement, and defenses to infringement.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 735 Patent Prosecution

This course focuses on drafting patents, strategy and tactics before the United States Patent and Trademark Office, and standards for patentability in the context of business effectiveness and ethical requirements.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 736 Patent Litigation

This course provides an introduction to patent infringement litigation in the federal courts and will focus on the special aspects of patent litigation arising from its technical nature.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 737 Advanced Patents

This course will delve more deeply into the questions of patentability, infringement, licensing, and assignments as well as the relationship of patents to copyright and trademarks.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 740 Entertainment Law

The course will provide overview of legal issues arising in the entertainment industry. Topics include acquisition of rights, talent agreements, project financing and structures, distributor and licensing agreements.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 760 Business Organizations

This class studies the legal attributes of corporations, partnerships, and the limited liability of companies. It examines the rights, duties and liabilities of managers, owners, and agents. It also focuses on formation issues, and operational powers.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 761 Nonprofit Organizations

This course will provide an overview of the legal environment of nonprofit organizations. Emphasis will be upon examining the law as it affects various aspects of nonprofits including incorporation, governance, fundraising and solicitation, and employments.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 762 Antitrust

This course focuses on antitrust law, with emphasis on how modern technology might challenge traditional antitrust principles. Topics include Rules of Reason vs. per se analysis, monopolies, mergers, joint ventures, tying arrangements, and exclusive dealing.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 763 Insurance Law

This course will survey the basic types of individual and corporate insurance policies, legal principles of insurance law and the role of insurance plays in society. Topics may include insurance industry regulation, policy structure, and risk management.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 765 Law & Fin of Trans Lawyering

This course will introduce students to the paradigmatic transactions that form the building blocks of all transactional lawyering. Students will explore the economic and financial underpinnings of employment/agency agreements, and borrowings.

Credits: 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 766 Private Equity & Vent Cap Law

This course examines the legal and financial aspects of venture capital and private equity transactions. Subjects include venture capital financing, leveraged buyout transactions, management equity incentive structures, and related tax topics.

Credits: 3.00 to 4.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 770 Prac in Entr Busn Lawyering I

This simulation class is the capstone of the Law and Entrepreneurship concentration. Students will form teams to provide advice to various entrepreneurial business "clients," engaging in client meetings and presentations, document review, and drafting.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 771 Prac in Entr Busn Lawyering II

This is the required continuation of Law 770.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 772 Intellectual Prop Practicum

This simulation class is the capstone of the Intellectual Property concentration. Students will form teams to provide advice to various business "clients," engaging in client meetings and presentations, document review, and drafting and negotiation.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 773 Health Law Practicum

This simulation class is the capstone of the Health Law concentration. Students will form teams to provide advice to various "clients," engaging in client meetings and presentations, document review, and drafting and negotiation.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 795 Special Topics in Law

Credits: 1.00 to 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 796 Special Topics in Law

This course covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.

Credits: 1.00 to 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 797 Special Topics in Law

This course covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.

Credits: 1.00 to 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 798 Special Topics in Law

This course covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.

Credits: 1.00 to 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 799 Special Topics in Law

This course covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.

Credits: 1.00 to 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 800 Independent Study This course will allow students to engage in independent legal research and writing under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. Students may not enroll in this course without written permission by the supervising faculty member.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 801 Advanced Legal Research

This course provides students a thorough grounding in the research skills needed by today's lawyers. Students will learn how to use advanced electronic and print resources and techniques to research case law, statutes, and legislative histories.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 805 Drafting Legal Documents

This course focuses on the issues and principles of drafting transactional (non-litigation) documents, such as contracts, wills and legislation. Students will complete a number of drafting assignments in and out of class.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 806 Litigation Drafting

This course explores technical and strategic issues in the drafting of litigation documents such as complaints, answers, written discovery, motions, affidavits, discovery schedules, pretrial orders, jury instructions, releases and correspondence.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 807 Appellate Advocacy

This course provides students with advanced training in appellate advocacy, including the study of the rhetoric of persuasion, the preparation of appellate briefs and the effective oral advocacy, and will include an introduction to appellate procedure.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 808 Introduction to Trial Advocacy

This course will develop students' trial skills based on strategic themes and theories. The student will conduct direct cross-examination of lay, party and expert witnesses, practice opening and closing statements, make objections and introduce exhibits.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 809 Advanced Trial Advocacy

This course will teach students to understand, develop and perform advanced trial skills based on strategic themes and theories used throughout the trial process. Students will analyze actual trial transcripts and exhibits and mock medical records.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 810 Mediation and Arbitration

This course explores the theory, practice and law of mediation and arbitration, with an emphasis on the roles lawyers play in these processes. The course will include simulated mediations and arbitrations to foster a deeper understanding of the material.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 812 Pretrial Advocacy

This course is designed for students with an interest in litigation and is a prerequisite to Introduction to Trial Advocacy. Students will learn the major steps in the pre-trial litigation process including theory development, and client interviewing.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 821 Advanced Co-op

This course is for students who have already taken a two-quarter Co-op and want to extend that placement by one quarter. Students must apply to their Co-op professor with a written proposal for a specific project.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 822 Criminal Litig'n Field Clinic I

This clinical program places students in a criminal practice setting. Students will represent criminal defendants in all phases of pre-trial and trial activity.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 823 Crim Fld Clinic II

This clinical program places students in a criminal practice setting. Students will represent criminal defendants in all phases of pre-trial and trial activity.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 824 Crim Fld Clinic III

This clinical program places students in a criminal practice setting. Students will represent criminal defendants in all phases of pre-trial and trial activity.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 825 Civil Litig'n Field Clinic I

This clinical program places students in a civil practice setting. Students will learn varied litigation skills in the context of direct representation of clients.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 826 Civil Litig'n Field Clinic II

This clinical program places students in a civil practice setting. Students will learn varied litigation skills in the context of direct representation of clients.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 827 Civil Litig'n Field Clinic III

This clinical program places students in a civil practice setting. Students will learn varied litigation skills in the context of direct representation of clients.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 828 Pub Hlth Fld Clinic I

This clinical program places students in a public interest practice setting. Students will be trained in varied advocacy, legal and technical skills working directly with clients. Students will learn to evaluate potential cases and work with community members.

Credits: 5.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 829 Pub Hlth Fld Clinic II

This clinical program places students in a public interest practice setting. Students will be trained in varied advocacy, legal and technical skills working directly with clients. Students will learn to evaluate potential cases and work with community members.

Credits: 5.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 830 Pub Hlth Fld Clinic III
This clinical program places students in a public interest practice setting. Students will be trained in varied advocacy, legal and technical skills working directly with clients. Students will learn to evaluate potential cases and work with community members.
Credits: 5.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 901 Seminar: Reg Medical Errors
This seminar will look at the problem of medical errors in American health care, the emerging Patient Safety movement, and regulatory strategies for reducing errors and improving quality in hospitals, drug delivery systems, and physician office practices.
Credits: 2.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 902 Sem:Confl in the Doc/Pat Rel
This seminar will examine the role of physicians in the practice of medicine, in light of a spectrum of situations that create conflicts of interest between patients and physicians.
Credits: 2.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 910 Seminar: Supreme Court
This seminar will introduce students to the history and function of the United States Supreme Court. Students will study several active cases, draft simulated Supreme Court opinions, and practice oral argument.
Credits: 3.00 to 4.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 912 Seminar: Regulation I
This seminar considers why we regulate and ways in which to make existing regulation more effective. Students review and critique the dominant economic regulation paradigm as well as other theories of regulation based on mortality and risk.
Credits: 1.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 913 Seminar: Regulation II
This is a continuation of LAW 912. Both quarters must be taken. The grade is based on the student's cumulative performance over both quarters. This seminar considers why we regulate and ways to make existing regulation more effective.
Credits: 1.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 930 Justice Lawyering Seminar I
This course, which is a co-requisite of the field clinics, is a critical look at law and social justices. In that context, students will develop individual research and writing projects inspired by their clinical experience.
Credits: 2.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 931 Justice Lawyering Seminar II
This course, which is a co-requisite of the filed clinics, is a critical look at law and social justice. In that context, students will develop individual research and writing projects inspired by their clinical experience.
Credits: 1.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 950 Special Topics Seminar
This seminar covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 951 Special Topics Seminar
This seminar covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 952 Special Topics Seminar
This seminar covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 953 Special Topics Seminar
This seminar covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics vary.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 954 Special Topics Seminar
This seminar covers topics of current interest to faculty and students; specific topics for each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit if topics each term will be announced prior to registration. May be repeated for credit.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 970 Toxic Torts
This course will consist on an in-depth study of mass tort litigation of all kinds, at both the state and federal level, focusing primarily on the manufacture and distribution of defective and toxic products and pharmaceuticals.
Credits: 2.00 to 3.00
College: Earle Mack School of Law
Department: College of Law

LAW 971 Juvenile Justice Law Seminar
This course will conduct an in-depth study of juvenile justice jurisprudence, doctrine, and policy in the United States. It will consider particular constitutional issues as they relate to children in the juvenile justice system.

Credits: 2.00 to 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 972 Literature and the Law Seminar

This seminar will explore the role of law, legal institutions, and legal actors in literature. It will also consider the ways in which literature, and literary theory, can be used in practice.

Credits: 3.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 973 M-B Con Lit Sem

This is the required companion course for students participating in the Marshall-Brennan Constitutional Literacy Project. It is designed to prepare law students to teach constitutional law in local high schools.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 990 Law Review Staff

Students must enter the law review writing competition and be selected as a member of the law review staff. Students will receive credit for their work in preparing each issue of the Drexel University College of Law Law Review. Enrollment by permission only.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law

LAW 995 Moot Court Room

Students will be selected by the faculty supervisors to serve on the moot court board. Students will develop an intra-scholastic moot court competition and will be eligible to compete in interscholastic competitions. Enrollment by permission of the faculty.

Credits: 2.00

College: Earle Mack School of Law

Department: College of Law