The Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design

The Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design curricula include general studies in liberal arts and science, and experiential learning in studio, lab, and classroom settings within the disciplines.

Mission Statement

The Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design (<http://drexel.edu/westphal/>)'s mission is to unlock the creativity of critical thinkers, makers, and creators who connect ideas and solve real-world problems, transforming careers and lives. As the "creative heart" of Drexel University, the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design trains the next generation of scholars, thinkers, makers, and doers in the fields of media, entertainment, design, and the visual and performing arts.

Westphal offers 18 undergraduate majors and 26 undergraduate minors, housed in award-winning facilities that encourage collaboration across creative disciplines. Students can pursue accelerated degree options, a certificate, or continue on to graduate studies through one of Westphal's nine graduate degree programs.

Westphal's undergraduate programs challenge students to center sustainability, access, diversity, inclusion, equity and anti-racism in their approaches to art, fashion, architecture, gaming, entertainment, and creative scholarship. The academics for each discipline are distinctive and rigorous, providing the appropriate balance of a solid foundation with individual creative direction, cultural awareness, strong technical skills, and an understanding of management and professional practice. Westphal is committed to continual review of curricula, processes, and outcomes to make those improvements and refinements necessary to further enrich our students' education, and to continue to foster independent thinkers, astute leaders, and creative problem solvers.

Westphal's vision is to shape the future of interdisciplinary creative practices, equitable partnerships, and inclusive engagement to enrich our campus, our communities, and our world. Through experiential learning, studio-based curriculum, guidance by industry-leading faculty, and experiencing Drexel's widely recognized Cooperative Education program (Co-op), Westphal students are uniquely positioned to face the world's challenges and define the creative careers of the 21st century.

Undergraduate Co-operative Education

Westphal students spend a minimum of six months (two terms) applying classroom and studio skills in positions within their chosen professions. Often referred to as "The Ultimate Internship," a co-op is a valuable, direct way to learn about a career, work with other professionals, and gain skills and experience that set Drexel graduates apart from students who complete their professional education in more traditional academic settings. While co-op opportunities may be either paid or unpaid, students who participate in the co-op program typically receive higher starting salaries post-graduation than graduates of other schools.

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/>) page for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Special Programs

The Westphal College offers a number of special programs including Study Abroad, Accelerated Dual Degree, Accelerated Summer Courses, Enrichment Programs, and Dance for Professionals.

Study Abroad

Many students in the College participate in study abroad ranging from ten days to two terms. Some of the more popular programs are in Australia, Rome, France, Korea, Germany, Prague, Japan, and Cuba, as well as Drexel in London and Fashion in London. Students interested in study abroad should consult with their program director, academic advisor, and the Study Abroad Office, 215-895-1704.

Enrichment Programs

The Department of Architecture, Design & Urbanism runs Intensive Courses Abroad to cities around the world including recent trips to Spain, Italy, Korea and Australia. These programs focus the travel portion into two-week periods between summer and fall terms and are open to all students. The Department of Cinema & Television offers a summer term Drexel in Los Angeles program for Film & Television, Screenwriting & Playwriting, and other Westphal majors. The Entertainment & Arts Management program offers a study abroad program at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in Scotland.

Accelerated Dual Degree Programs

Dual degree programs enable academically qualified students to earn both a bachelor's and an advanced degree in five years. The following Accelerated Degree programs are available to qualified high school students entering their freshman year in the Westphal College:

- BS in Fashion Industry & Merchandising/Business Administration MBA: This program combines study in the area of fashion retail merchandising with the MBA degree. The program is available to qualified Design and Merchandising majors.
- BS Entertainment & Arts Management/Business Administration MBA: This program allows high-achieving students preparing for leadership roles in media companies and arts organizations the opportunity to earn their MBA degree. The program is available to qualified Entertainment & Arts management majors.

- BS Music Industry/Business Administration MBA: This program offers the highly motivated and musically focused student an opportunity to combine music theory and technology with the MBA degree. The program is available to qualified Music Industry majors.

The following Accelerated Degree programs are available to qualified matriculated students in the Westphal College:

- BS Animation and Visual Effects/MS in Digital Media: This program allows highly motivated students to complete the BS in Animation & Visual Effects and MS degree in Digital Media programs in five years.
- BS Dance/MS in Elementary Education: This career focus, dance in education prepares students for jobs as elementary school teachers (grades pre-kindergarten through 4) who may also serve as school dance specialists. Students choosing this option will earn a BS degree in Dance through the Department of Performing Arts and may elect to continue for a fifth year of study to earn an MS in the Teaching, Learning and Curriculum Teacher Certification through the School of Education (<http://drexel.edu/soe/>).
- BS Game Design and Production/MS in Digital Media: This program allows highly motivated students to complete both the BS in Game Design & Production and MS degree in Digital Media programs in five years.
- BS User Experience and Interaction Design/MS in Digital Media: This program allows highly motivated students to complete both the BS in User Experience and Interaction Design and MS degree in Digital Media in five years.
- BS Interior Design/MS in Design: This five-year path allows students to graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Interior Design, enhanced by a Master of Science in Design Research, preparing them for a human-centered technology-driven professional career.

- BS Interior Design/MS in Interior Architecture: This program combines the Interior Design undergraduate and the graduate Interior Architecture degrees in an intensive five-year program that provides an opportunity for the student to focus on an area of specialization.
- BS Interior Design/MS in Urban Strategy: This five-year path allows students to graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Interior Design, enhanced by a Master of Science in Urban Strategy, preparing them to collaboratively and creatively solve complex multifaceted urban challenges on all levels: locally, nationally, and globally.
- BS Digital Media & Virtual Production/MS in Digital Media: This program allows highly motivated students to complete both the BS in Virtual Reality and MS degree in Digital Media in five years.

Accelerated Summer Courses

With departmental permission, students may enroll in Visual Studies accelerated courses over the summer. These typically include courses in Accelerated Design I, II, III, Introductory Drawing, and Figure Drawing I. These courses primarily are offered so that new undergraduate transfer students and pre-graduate students can complete their future programs in an economical time frame. Students with some experience in studio coursework may be eligible to take accelerated courses. A portfolio review is required to determine eligibility.

Dance Part-time Professionals

The Part-time Professionals option of the Dance Major is designed for professional dancers interested in pursuing a BS degree in Dance while continuing their performance careers or at the conclusion of their performing careers. This program grants "professional life experience" credits and an extended period of time to fulfill the remaining required courses.

Ensembles

Choral Ensembles

University Chorus (MUSC 101) Dr. Daniel Spratlan, Director
As auditioned, 60-voice group which performs concert choir literature, both a cappella and with instrumental accompaniment.

Chamber Singers (MUSC 102) Dr. Daniel Spratlan, Director
A select group of 18 singers chosen by audition from the University Chorus. They perform secular music from the Renaissance period (Madrigals).

Vocal Jazz Ensemble (MUSC 103) Dr. Daniel Spratlan, Director
A select group of 16 singers chosen by audition from the University Chorus. They perform "anything that swings," doing a variety of pieces from the 20's to the 10's with a three-piece back-up band.

All College Choir (MUSC 104)/ Scott Bacon, Director
A large un-auditioned choir that performs a varied repertoire including light classics, spirituals, and popular music.

Instrumental Ensembles

Concert Band (MUSC 105) Patrick Bailey, Director
Students who are proficient on woodwind, brass, or percussion instruments may become members of this large instrumental ensemble by auditioning for the director. Membership is based on the student's ability and the instrumental needs of the ensemble.

The Basketball Pep Band (MUSC 116) Dr. Domenic Pisano, Director
This band is made up of brass players, saxophone players, and trap drummers drawn from the membership of the Concert Band.

Jazz Orchestra (MUSC 107) Brent White, Director
Performs music which is associated with and/or inspired by acknowledged masters of the jazz tradition such as Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis, Charles Mingus, Thad Jones, and others.

The Jazztet (MUSC 108) Brent White, Director
This ensemble performs small group masterpieces such as literature associated with Art Blakey, Horace Silver, Clifford Brown, John Coltrane, and others.

University Orchestra (MUSC 109) Rosalind Erwin, Director
This is a full orchestra that performs concert repertoire of various periods from the 18th century to the present day. Wind, brass, and percussionists must be in the Concert Band in order to participate.

Fusion Band (MUSC 112) Lynn Riley, Director
A small combo utilizing a rhythm section and any varying combination of saxes and brass. The repertoire includes music of the styles of jazz, Latin, funk, and rock.

Percussion Ensemble (MUSC 113) Mark Beecher, Director
Students in this group will have the opportunity to play, improve and perform on many instruments of the percussion family including: snare drum, bass drum, xylophone, marimba, timpani- and even hands and feet.

Mediterranean Ensemble (MUSC 114) Bruce Kaminsky, Director
Students perform traditional music from Southeastern Europe, the Middle East and Northern Africa. All traditional and Western instruments are welcomed including oud, bouzouki and saz along with guitar, violin and sax. Percussionists can play Drexel's wide assortment of traditional drums including doumbek, riq and djimbe. Students will have the opportunity to perform 7/8 and 9/8 rhythms from Greece, 10/8 rhythms from Turkey, learn songs in Greek, Turkish, Arabic and Hebrew.

Rock Ensemble (MUSC 117) Greg Wright, Director
A small combo of vocalists, guitarists, bassists, keyboardist, and drummers who perform repertoire ranging from classic rock to alternative.

Drexel University Dance Program

Elegant, exciting, sophisticated, sleek are all words commonly used to describe the Drexel Dance Ensemble. Performing ballet, jazz, tap and modern dance, the Drexel Dancers are both versatile and original.

The Drexel Dance Ensemble (DANC 131), Olive Prince, Director
A professional caliber dance company presenting two fully-produced concerts in the Mandell Theater each year. Students participating in the 60 member ensemble are given the opportunity to explore their artistry through working with professional choreographers, both faculty and guests artists, as well as a selection of student choreographers. The diversity of choreographic talent promises a show with dimension and unique perspectives on contemporary and classical dance forms. Entrance into this company is open to any dancers beyond their freshman year by audition twice yearly.

The FreshDance Ensemble (DANC 131), Olive Prince, Director
Dance company open exclusively to freshmen at Drexel. The 30 dancers in the ensemble perform two fully produced concerts at the Mandell Theater each year. Works by both professional and student choreographers are performed in a variety of genres including ballet, modern, jazz and hip-hop. Entrance into the company is open twice yearly by audition.

The Youth Performance Exchange Touring Ensemble (DANC 131) Valerie Ifill, Director

This 8-10 member dance troupe performs assembly style lecture demonstration programs introducing student K-8 to the art of dance. Students learn the program each fall and perform for 15-20 elementary and middle school each Friday morning in winter and spring terms. Open by audition each fall term.

Drexel University Theatre Program

Mr. Nick Anselmo, Director of Theatre Programs

Introduction to Theater Production Practicum (THTR 130)

An introduction to the tools, basic skills and safety procedures that students must know in order to work on Theater Program shows.

Theatre Performance Practicum (THTR 131)

Students perform in Mainstage productions in the URBN Annex Black Box Theater or the Mandell Theater. An audition is required to participate in this ensemble.

Theatre Production Practicum (THTR 132)

Students serve as the stage crew for all theatrical productions at the URBN Annex Black Box Theater or the Mandell Theater and build all the sets, costumes, hang lights and run sound for all the shows.

Theatre Management Practicum (THTR 133)

Students work as stage managers, production managers, and in administrative positions of Drexel's Co-op Theater Company.

Open Mic Management Practicum (THTR 134)

Students manage and run all aspects of The Late Night Series, a free weekly open mic that strives to both champion and nurture performing artists with Philadelphia and the Drexel community.

Theatre Performance Ensemble (THTR 141)

The Theatre Performance Ensemble focuses on a specific area of performance training, creation, and research to supplement the standard theatre curriculum in performance.

Director's Lab Practicum (THTR 142)

Practical experience in acting for the stage through participation in a student directed one-act play in conjunction with the Play Directing Class. An audition is required to participate in this ensemble.

Musical Theatre Cabaret (THTR 143)

Practical experience preparing a song for performance with an emphasis on applying acting techniques to the delivery, it concludes with a public Cabaret performance.

New Works Festival Performance Practicum (THTR 144)

Practical experience in acting and dramaturgy for the stage through participation, development, and performance of student written plays in conjunction with the Page-to-Stage class.

Students participate in all aspects of theatre performance and production, including; acting, directing, design, costumes, lighting, sets, sound, publicity, and box office.

Facilities

Designed to be an incubator for tomorrow's creative leaders, The URBN Center is the award-winning home for many of the programs in the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design, providing students with rigorous, studio intensive instruction with the latest technological resources. Undergraduate majors that share this space include Animation & Visual Effects, Architecture, Digital Media & Virtual Production, Design & Merchandising, Entertainment & Arts Management, Fashion Design, Game Design & Production, Graphic Design, Interior Design, Product Design, and User Experience & Interaction Design. Graduate programs that share this space include Arts Administration, Design Research, Digital Media, Fashion Design, Interior Architecture, and Urban Strategy.

The URBN Center also provides a black box theater (<https://drexel.edu/performingarts/about/facilities/urban-center-black-box-theater/>) for our performing arts, a 3,500 square foot Leonard Pearlstein Gallery (<http://www.drexel.edu/pearlsteingallery/>), a Motion Capture studio, a Hybrid Making Lab (http://drexel.edu/westphal/about/overview/making_spaces/HybridMakingLab/) featuring laser cutters, and 3-D printing and prototyping capabilities, the Robert and Penny Fox Historic Costume Collection (<https://drexel.edu/foxcollection/>), the Charles Evans Fashion Design Library, a multi-use screening and lecture room, Shima Seki (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/graduate/FASH/research/shima-seiki/>) high-tech knitting machines, a print center (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/westphal-experience/technology/help-documentation/papercut/>), and offices for the College's administrative functions.

In One Drexel Plaza, Studio One, designed by the renowned architectural and acoustic firm Walters-Storyk Design Group, serves as the Music Industry program's premiere studio and classroom. Centered around a Rupert Neve Designs 5088 console and equipped with soffit mounted monitors by ATC, the 1300 sq. foot studio features outboard gear by Universal Audio, Tube-tech, Retro Instruments, API, GML, Empirical Labs and AMS Neve. Software options include the latest offerings by Ableton Live, Pro Tools, and Logic Audio, as well as plug-ins by Waves, McDSP, Sonnox, Sound Toys, iZotope, and Universal Audio.

The Academic Building is home to our Photography major and department of Art & Art History. Within this facility, the Westphal College occupies a 10,000-square-foot photography lab (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/PHTO/Facilities/>), lighting studios, and digital imaging labs, as well as six lecture/ laboratory spaces for our Visual Studies courses.

University Crossings boasts a 25,000-square-foot space for Film & Television, Screenwriting & Playwriting, and Television & Media Management faculty. Also in this building are two state-of-the-art digital editing facilities (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/FMTV/Facilities/>), a shooting studio with special effects capability, two screening rooms, a digital audio postproduction studio, several multimedia classrooms, and a well-stocked equipment room (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/FMTV/Equipment/>) featuring state of the art cameras including Arri Alexas and Arri Amiras, amongst others.

MacAlister Hall serves students in the Westphal College with recording studios for Music Industry; The Mandell Theater (<http://drexel.edu/performingarts/about/facilities/mandell-theater/>), a 420-seat proscenium theater with scene shop and dressing rooms; the Ellen Forman Memorial Dance Studio (<http://www.drexel.edu/performingarts/about/facilities/ellen-forman-dance-studio/>); and a high-definition television studio.

Animation and Visual Effects BS

Major: Animation and Visual Effects

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 184.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years); Three Co-op (Five years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 10.0304

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-1014

About the Program

The Animation & Visual Effects major provides students with the artistic, technological, story-telling, and design skills necessary to succeed as 3D animators and visual effects artists in the highly competitive entertainment, design, and communications industries.

Animation and Visual Effects has grown beyond its traditional applications in the entertainment industry. While many artists choose a career in film, television, and internet-based programming, animation production techniques are also widely used in medical research, engineering, virtual and augmented reality systems, immersive media, web content, the performing arts, interactive game systems, corporate communications, higher education, and more. The depth and complexity of this field necessitates a rigorous course of study.

To best prepare students for the demands of careers in these cutting-edge disciplines, the program provides a foundational understanding of design and technology with core courses in digital media, the option to choose between a six or eighteen-month co-op plan, and a curriculum of rigorous coursework covering specialized aspects of digital animation, visual effects, and immersive media. While courses are predominantly offered face-to-face on campus, we also offer a variety of virtual courses taught by a diverse range of professionals from across the nation, exposing students to a wider network of industry professionals and to the evolving climate of industry work, and engaging with students outside the campus boundaries. In this curriculum, students will learn the underlying principles of animation and advanced, industry-standard software and hardware technologies. The entire creative pipeline, from storyboarding to modeling and animation to rendering and compositing, is covered in-depth, allowing students to experience all aspects of a production.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Dual/Accelerated Degrees

The accelerated degree program enables academically qualified students to earn both their bachelor's degree and a master's degree in digital media, graduating sooner than they would in traditional programs.

Current Drexel Animation and Visual Effects students may apply for the accelerated BS/MS degree through the Office of Graduate Studies of Drexel University after completing 90.0 credits, but no more than 120.0 credits. Contact the Office of Graduate Studies (<https://drexel.edu/graduatecollege/>) for further information.

Facilities

This major is based in the Westphal College's Digital Media Department, located in the Westphal College's URBN Center.

The central creative space for the department is the Animation Capture & Effects Lab (ACE-Lab), featuring a 1200-square-foot open studio space dedicated to digital media production. The studio features include a 20-foot by 10-foot LED Volume Wall, a 25-foot by 17-foot green screen cyclorama, studio lighting and modifiers, 4k camera systems, camera dolly, Vicon Vantage motion capture system, stereo-360 "VR Video" capture systems, room-scale VR tracking systems, and a full 360° Immersive Projection Dome among other resources.

Additional spaces surrounding the main studio include screening rooms, classrooms and computer labs featuring advanced graphics work stations, VR labs, research labs, meeting rooms, and faculty offices.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Understand weight, balance and movement as they relate to animation
- Develop and demonstrate a comprehension of color, composition and balance within a frame.
- Demonstrate a working knowledge of the entire animation production.
- Develop and demonstrate strong communication skills for working effectively within a collaborative environment

Animation and Visual Effects Faculty

John Berton Assistant Professor. Visual effects, lighting and rendering Computer-Generated Imagery (CGI)

Paul Diefenbach, PhD (University of Pennsylvania). Assistant Professor. Game development, real-time rendering.

Jeremy Fernsler, BA (Pennsylvania State University) Program Director, Game Design & Production. Assistant Teaching Professor. Digital effects artist; compositor and animator for the feature film visual effects industry.

Nick Jushchyshyn, MFA (Academy of Art University) Program Director, Animation and Visual Effects. Assistant Teaching Professor. Visual effects, digital media and animation.

Frank J. Lee, PhD (Carnegie Mellon University). Associate Professor. Human-computer interaction; cognitive engineering and science; intelligent software agents for games and education.

Robert Lloyd, MFA (Temple University). Assistant Teaching Professor. Game development, themed entertainment and motion simulation.

David Mauriello, BA (Lafayette College). Assistant Professor. 3D modeling and animation.

Glen Muschio, PhD (Temple University). Associate Professor. Digital media, society, communication.

Stefan Rank, PhD (Vienna University of Technology). Assistant Professor. Artificial intelligence, game design and human-computer interaction.

Jervis Thompson, BS (Drexel University). Associate Teaching Professor. Digital media, interactive multimedia.

Michael Wagner, PhD (Vienna University of Technology) Program Director, Digital Media. Associate Professor. Educational use of digital media and computer games.

Jichen Zhu, PhD (Georgia Institute of Technology). Assistant Professor. Developing humanistic and interpretive framework of computational technology, particularly artificial intelligence (AI), and constructing AI-based cultural artifacts; interactive storytelling, games and software studies.

Architectural Studies BS

Major: Architectural Studies

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 181.0

Co-op Options: No Co-op (Four years); One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 04.0803

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 25-1031

About the Program

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies degree offers an introduction to architecture while affording students the flexibility to customize studies based on their interest in the realms of design and the built environment. The program encompasses foundation courses in the applied and social sciences, the humanities, and a range of architecture courses where students gain an understanding of the discipline. Introductory-level design studios are the heart of the curriculum. They challenge students to apply knowledge acquired from these disciplines to consequential design problems.

As an art, a technical craft, and an ethical practice, architecture is the culturally responsible design and production of buildings that are functional, sustainable, inspiring, and responsive to their physical and social contexts. Students have the opportunity to reinforce their skills by opting to participate in Drexel's signature co-op program. This gives students the opportunity to work full-time in architecture, design or related fields locally, nationally, or internationally. The BS in Architectural Studies program prepares students for entry-level employment in architecture and related fields. This degree is offered with a co-op and a non-co-op option. The degree modality is face-to-face; however, a small number of classes may be offered partially or fully in a virtual format. Virtual formats allow us to attract talented experts from outside the greater Philadelphia area and provide more flexibility to students on Co-op or working in the profession.

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies is not NAAB accredited and does not directly prepare for architectural licensure and registration.

The pre-professional BS in Architectural Studies degree offers a foundation in the field of architecture to prepare for continued education in a professional NAAB-accredited graduate degree program. It is also an ideal foundation for specialization in related disciplines, to pursue an individualized path through interdisciplinary coursework, or to continue architectural studies through additional studio courses. In addition, several accelerated BS/MS degree options are available to Architectural Studies students through a five (5)-year program in the following disciplines:

- BS in Architectural Studies and the MS in Design (p. 94)
- BS in Architectural Studies and the MS in Interior Architecture (p. 99)
- BS in Architectural Studies and the MS in Urban Strategy (p. 102)
- BS in Architectural Studies and the MS in Construction Management (p. 90).

Note: Bachelor of Architecture (p. 14) vs Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) and Architecture vs Architectural Engineering (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofengineering/architecturalengineering/>)

Because Drexel University offers three programs with "architecture" in their titles, it is useful to point out the significant differences between them:

- Architects design buildings to meet people's spatial, organizational, and aesthetic needs; they also coordinate the building design process. All states, the District of Columbia, and three U.S. territories (Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands) require individuals to be licensed (registered) before they may call themselves architects or be contracted to provide architectural services. Many architecture school graduates work in the field even though they are not licensed or while they are in the process of becoming licensed, but they may not call themselves an architect.

A licensed architect is required to take legal responsibility for all work. Licensure requirements usually include:

- A professional degree in architecture (B.Arch. or M.Arch. degrees)
- A period of practical training or internship (AXP) (<https://nam10.safelinks.protection.outlook.com/?url=https%3A%2F%2Fwww.ncarb.org%2Fgain-axp-experience&data=04%7C01%7Cua27%40drexel.edu%7C495cb30df9174f24baaa08d91a3685da%7C3664e6fa47bd45a696708c4f080f8ca6%7C0%7C0%7C6375696437389%7CTWfPbGZsb3d8eyJWljoIMC4wLjAwMDAilCJQljoIV2luMzliLCJBTiI6Ik1%7C1000&sdata=kXdqNq6pA%2BIqm2GFGHNObnmHb3LoX6y70yc2KBEu53I%3D&reserved=0>)
- Passage of all divisions of the Architect Registration Examination (ARE) (<https://nam10.safelinks.protection.outlook.com/?url=https%3A%2F%2Fwww.ncarb.org%2Fpass-the-are&data=04%7C01%7Cua27%40drexel.edu%7C495cb30df9174f24baaa08d91a3685da%7C3664e6fa47bd45a696708c4f080f8ca6%7C0%7C0%7C6375696437389%7CTWfPbGZsb3d8eyJWljoIMC4wLjAwMDAilCJQljoIV2luMzliLCJBTiI6Ik1%7C1000&sdata=bVStk%2FmCAYnh52glzmHEhlaVFIFnTwadK1dgZR7x86U%3D&reserved=0>)

Opportunities

Drexel's Architecture Program offers distinct experiential-based learning models for students interested in combining an architectural education with other disciplines, like digital media, construction management, design, or other fields. The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies provides opportunities for interdisciplinary studies with flexible options to combine your studies with related fields. It can be a precursor to a dual BS/MS degree at Drexel University or a professional NAAB-accredited M.Arch. degree at another institution. 5-year accelerated BS/MS degrees between the BS in Architectural Studies and the MS in Design, the MS in Interior Architecture or the MS in Urban Strategy are available to select students.

The BS in Architectural Science degree provides the opportunity to take advantage of Drexel's renowned co-op program during the junior year. Co-op provides project-based, real-life experiences that help students enter the professional world, apply and hone their skills. Students may opt to do their co-op in Philadelphia or in another location of their choosing. Through a required course and career advisement services offered by the Steinbright Career Development Center, students develop the ability to market themselves and obtain jobs in leading firms worldwide.

Drexel is located in University City, a Philadelphia neighborhood that includes several centers of education and research. Philadelphia itself offers an unparalleled collection of landmark architecture and urban planning that spans 300 years of development. The region has always been home to architectural and design firms of national and international prominence. A rich and varied environment, combined with an accomplished and supportive professional community, makes Philadelphia an ideal laboratory for the study of architecture. All of the faculty in the program are active in the Philadelphia architecture community, many in leadership positions at firms.

Students seeking support for resume and portfolio development may schedule an appointment both with the Steinbright Career Development Center or with Alesa Rubendall, AIA, Associate Director of Student Placement. Password-protected job listings exclusively for Drexel Architecture students can be found on the Opportunities for Students website. (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/ARCH/Opportunities/>) Firms seeking Drexel interns may contact students directly by finding student links to resume, work samples, and web portfolios at this site.

Facilities

The Architecture program is housed in URBN Center, an original Venturi Scott Brown building enhanced by an award-winning retrofit by MS&R Design, which includes a skylight-covered atrium, exposed beams, and open spaces. There are dedicated 24-hour studios with dedicated desks for full-time students, storage space, model-building opportunities, and a small lounge area.

The Department's offices, studios, and teaching facilities are located on floors 3 and 4 of the URBN Center at 3501 Market Street. The Hybrid Making Lab (http://drexel.edu/westphal/about/overview/making_spaces/HybridMakingLab/) with laser cutters, 3-D printers, a CNC router, and small-scale power tools. It is located on the first floor of URBN and is open to all Westphal students. It is equipped with state-of-the-art fabricating equipment accessible to students after required training. The Westphal Print Center is a full-service, low-cost facility located on the ground floor and is accessible to students from on and off-campus.

The URBN Annex houses a black box theater, screening room, and the Leonard Pearlstein Gallery (<http://www.drexel.edu/pearlsteingallery/>). Additional studio and classroom space in the Academic Building and the Design Arts Annex accommodate photography, basic design, painting, sculpture, and a full woodworking shop, including metal, resin, casting, CNC, and fabrication equipment with industrial-quality equipment.

Philadelphia, one of the nation's major design centers and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, gives architecture and design students the vitality of the contemporary arts at local galleries and easy access to many museums, libraries, and renowned buildings, as well as design centers located in Philadelphia, New York City, and Washington, D.C.

Program Level Outcomes

- Integrate architectural knowledge, ethical reasoning, and technical skills.
- Demonstrate knowledge of the design, history and theory of world architecture and the ecological, cultural, physical and social contexts that have shaped the built environment.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the design, history and theory of world architecture and urbanism in their broad physical and social contexts.
- Foster convergent and divergent critical thinking through information literacy and the skills to rigorously access and evaluate information to identify critical design issues and appropriate design solutions.
- Demonstrate effective visual representation, written, and verbal communication skills to communicate
 - research, analysis and design
 - in collaborative endeavors
 - in professional and public settings.
- Embrace experiential education to learn through
 - direct observation and engagement with the city
 - work opportunities in the building professions
 - learning from and collaborating with practicing adjunct professors in the classroom.

Architecture BArch

Major: Architecture

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Architecture (BArch)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 227.0

Co-op Options: None

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 04.0902

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 17-1011

About the Program

The practice of architecture requires a unique skillset—creative thinking and aesthetic sensitivity balanced with technical knowledge, cultural understanding, and social responsibility. Critical thinking and communication skills are essential. Drexel's Bachelor of Architecture program includes foundation courses in the applied and social sciences, the humanities, and a wide range of professional architecture courses where students prepare for careers in architecture and related fields. Design studios are the heart of the curriculum. These challenge students to apply their knowledge, engage open-ended design problems, and develop thoughtful solutions.

Drexel Architecture's study/work program is an experience-based learning model that extends beyond Drexel University's legendary co-op program. The model offers a practical, high-quality education for students who also seek early experience in daily architectural practice. This is an alternative to traditional full-time academic architecture programs. Concurrent to continuous part-time academic preparation, students can work in professional design firms. This provides an affordable option to students whose entrance into the profession might be inhibited by the cost of education.

Drexel offers two paths to an accredited Bachelor of Architecture degree. The 2+4 option (2+4) and the Part-Time Evening (PTE) option. Each serves a distinct population:

Accreditation

In the United States, most registration boards require a degree from an accredited professional degree program as a prerequisite for licensure. The National Architectural Accrediting Board (<http://www.naab.org/>) (NAAB), which is the sole agency authorized to accredit US professional degree programs in architecture, recognizes three types of degrees: the Bachelor of Architecture, the Master of Architecture, and the Doctor of Architecture. A program may be granted an eight-year, three-year, or two-year term of accreditation, depending on the extent of its conformance with established educational standards.

Doctor of Architecture and Master of Architecture programs may require a pre-professional undergraduate degree in architecture for admission; however, the pre-professional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree.

Drexel University, Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design, Department of Architecture, Design & Urbanism offers the following NAAB-accredited degree program(s):

2+4 Option: 6-year program (2 years full-time, 4 years part-time)

Bachelor of Architecture
227.0 undergraduate quarter-term credits

Part-Time Evening Option: 7-year part-time program

Bachelor of Architecture
227.0 undergraduate quarter-term credits

Next accreditation visit for both tracks: 2026

About the 2+4 Option

The 2+4 option is suitable for well-prepared high school graduates pursuing a Bachelor of Architecture degree. The first two years are full-time. Coursework addresses basic principles of architectural design and satisfies Drexel University core course requirements in the arts and sciences. Courses also prepare students with job-related skills needed for entry-level positions in architecture or related design fields. After successful completion of the full-time phase, the program supports students to identify and secure employment in architecture and building industry firms while continuing the academic program through part-time evening courses for the next four years.

About the Part-time Evening Option

The part-time evening option is one of only two part-time evening architectural programs in the United States leading to the NAAB-accredited Bachelor of Architecture degree. It is designed for non-traditional and transfer students. Because all courses are part-time and in the evening students can work full-time. The full program sequence is seven years, however transfer students with university-level design credits can reduce this length through transcript and portfolio review.

For both tracks, the degree modality is face-to-face; however, a small number of classes may be offered partially or fully in a virtual format. Virtual formats allow us to attract talented experts from outside the greater Philadelphia area and provide more flexibility to students working in the profession or commuting to Drexel. Combining study with work experience enables Drexel Architecture students to simultaneously complete two of the three NCARB licensure criteria: the Architectural Experience Program (AXP) (<https://www.ncarb.org/gain-axp-experience/>) and an accredited professional degree (BArch). Students can opt to achieve the third criteria, the Architectural Registration Exams (ARE), through Drexel's Integrated Pathway to Architectural Licensure (IPAL) program.

The Integrated Path to Architectural Licensure (IPAL) Program

Drexel Architecture is one of very few undergraduate programs approved by the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) (<http://www.ncarb.org/>) to participation in the Integrated Path to Architectural Licensure (IPAL) (<https://www.ncarb.org/become-architect/ipal/>) Program. IPAL provides students the opportunity to achieve licensure upon graduation—an important innovation affording students the chance to jump-start their careers through a curriculum of education, work experience, and licensure examinations. Students follow either of the two options leading to the Bachelor of Architecture degree while preparing for and sitting for licensing exams. Students seeking access to this track need permission from the program director and the IPAL faculty advisor.

Note: Bachelor of Architecture vs Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) and Architecture vs Architectural Engineering (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofengineering/architecturalengineering/>)

Because Drexel University offers three programs with "architecture" in their titles, it is useful to point out the significant differences between them:

- Architects design buildings to meet people's spatial, organizational, and aesthetic needs. They also coordinate the building design process. All states, the District of Columbia, and three U.S. territories (Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands) require individuals to be licensed (registered) before they may call themselves architects or be contracted to provide architectural services. Many architecture school graduates work in the field even though they are not licensed or while they are in the process of becoming licensed. But they may not call themselves an architect.

A licensed architect is required to take legal responsibility for all work. Licensure requirements usually include:

- A professional degree in architecture (B.Arch. or M.Arch. degrees)
- A period of practical training or internship (AXP) (<https://www.ncarb.org/gain-axp-experience/>)
- Passage of all divisions of the Architect Registration Examination (ARE) (<https://www.ncarb.org/pass-the-are/>)

The difference between the NAAB-accredited Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.) degree and the non-accredited Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) (BS in Arch. Studies) degree:

Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.) degrees are designed to help you develop a comprehensive knowledge of the discipline of architecture, as well as foundational professional knowledge and a basic understanding of related fields. The NAAB-accredited B.Arch. degree at Drexel University is suitable for students who seek to earn a professional undergraduate degree that leads to professional licensure and affords you early exposure to architectural practice. While our B.Arch. degree does NOT participate in Drexel's signature coop program, our students' opportunity to gain professional work experience and complete most or all of their AXP requirements prior to graduation, thus far exceeding the practice exposure of coop. A conventional B.Arch. degree is typically five years long. The 2+4 Option and the PT Evening Option take longer to complete due to the part-time model but allows an accelerated path to professional licensure due to parallel AXP completion and the option to participate in IPAL.

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) (BS in Arch. Studies) degree is a four-year, pre-professional degree that is NOT accredited by NAAB. You will develop a comprehensive knowledge of the discipline of architecture, hone your design skills and expand your architectural understanding. If you're unsure about becoming a licensed architect, this degree will still encompass everything you enjoy about design and construction and gives you a broad introduction to architecture. Further, it provides flexible avenues to combine your studies with related fields. The BS in Arch. Studies degree is offered as a coop and a non-coop option. Our BS in Architectural Studies degree can be a precursor to a dual BS/MS degree at Drexel University or a professional NAAB-accredited M.Arch. degree. (<https://www.ncarb.org/pass-the-are/>)

- Architectural Engineers specialize in the design of engineering systems within buildings. Architectural engineers earn Bachelor of Science degrees and become professional engineers with the required experience and state examinations. Students whose interests are focused on the technological and engineering aspects of buildings should review Drexel's major in Architectural Engineering (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofengineering/architecturalengineering/>) offered by the College of Engineering.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Opportunities

Drexel's work/study program is an experiential-based learning model that complements and provides an alternative to traditional full-time academic architecture programs. The Drexel model provides a practical, high-quality education to those students who seek early exposure to daily architectural practice as well as an affordable alternative to students who could not otherwise be able to enter the profession. The degree modality for the B.Arch. degree is face-to-face; however, a small number of classes may be offered partially or fully in a virtual format, which allows us to attract talented experts from outside the greater Philadelphia area and provides more flexibility for students on coop or out working in the profession.

The B.Arch. is the first professional degree in architecture that qualifies for professional licensure along with completing the Architectural Experience Program (AXP) and passing the Architectural Registration Exams (ARE). Drexel's architecture graduates often continue working for the firms that employed them during the work-study phase of their studies. In time, some architects reach positions of associate or partner in these offices while others choose to launch their own firms. Other graduates pursue a master degree and specialize in an advanced area of interest - either upon graduation or at a later point. Urban design, sustainability, historic preservation, interior design, and facilities management are some of the related careers that architectural graduates also pursue with similar patterns of success.

The Integrated Path to Architectural Licensure Initiative (IPAL) provides students the opportunity to achieve licensure upon graduation—an important innovation affording students the chance to jump-start their careers through a curriculum of education, work experience (AXP), and licensure examinations (ARE). Students follow either of Drexel's two options leading to the Bachelor of Architecture degree while preparing for and sitting for licensing exams during the summers following the third, fourth, and fifth year of study. Our Architecture Program is part of a selective group of schools in the country to offer this opportunity, an initiative spearheaded by the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB).

Drexel is located in University City, a Philadelphia neighborhood that includes several centers of education and research. Philadelphia itself offers an unparalleled collection of landmark architecture and urban planning that spans 300 years of development. The region has always been home to architectural firms of national and international prominence. A rich and varied environment combined with an accomplished and supportive professional community make Philadelphia an ideal laboratory for the study of architecture. All of the faculty in the program are active in the Philadelphia architecture community, many in leadership positions at firms.

Students seeking support for resume and portfolio development may schedule an appointment with the Associate Director for Student Placement by contacting the Architecture program. Password-protected job listings exclusively for Drexel Architecture students are available. (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/ARCH/Opportunities/>) Firms seeking Drexel interns may contact students directly by finding student links to resumes, work samples, and web portfolios at this site.

Facilities

The Architecture program is housed in URBN Center, an original Venturi Scott Brown building enhanced by an award-winning retrofit by MS&R Design. It includes a skylight-covered atrium, exposed beams, and open spaces. There are dedicated 24-hour studios with dedicated desks for full-time students, storage space, model-building opportunities, and a small lounge area.

The Department's offices, studios, and teaching facilities are located on floors 3 and 4 of the URBN Center at 3501 Market Street. The Hybrid Making Lab (http://drexel.edu/westphal/about/overview/making_spaces/)

HybridMakingLab/) with laser cutters, 3-D printers, a CNC router, and small-scale power tools is located on the first floor. It is open to all Westphal students. It is equipped with state-of-the-art fabricating equipment accessible to students after required training. The Westphal Print Center is a full-service, low-cost facility located on the ground floor and is accessible to students from on and off-campus.

The URBN Annex houses a black box theater, screening room, and the Leonard Pearlstein Gallery (<http://www.drexel.edu/pearlsteingallery/>). Additional studio and classroom space in the Academic Building and the Design Arts Annex accommodate photography, basic design, painting, sculpture, and a full woodworking shop, including metal, resin, casting, CNC, and fabrication equipment with industrial-quality equipment.

Philadelphia, one of the nation's major design centers and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, gives architecture and design students the vitality of the contemporary arts at local galleries. There is easy access to many museums, libraries, and renowned buildings, as well as design centers located in Philadelphia, New York City, and Washington, D.C.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Integrate professional architectural knowledge, ethical reasoning, and technical skills to demonstrate the ability to protect and promote the health, safety and welfare of the public and the environment.
- Demonstrate knowledge of the design, history and theory of world architecture and the ecological, cultural, physical and social contexts that have shaped the built environment.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the design, history and theory of world architecture and urbanism in their broad physical and social contexts.
- Foster convergent and divergent critical thinking through information literacy and the skills to rigorously access and evaluate information to identify critical design issues and appropriate design solutions.
- Demonstrate effective visual representation, written, and verbal communication skills to communicate
 - research, analysis and design
 - in collaborative endeavors
 - in professional and public settings.
- Embrace experiential education to learn through
 - direct observation and engagement with the city
 - work opportunities in the building professions
 - learning from and collaborating with practicing adjunct professors in the classroom.

Art History BA

Major: Art History

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Arts (BA)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 181.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0703

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 25-4011

About the Program

The history of art explores the meanings, values, and purposes of the visual arts within the historical cultures that create them. Works of fine and applied arts are understood not merely as aesthetic forms, but as expressions of the social, economic, scientific, religious, and political contexts that gave rise to them. The study of art history thus effectively serves the high purposes of a liberal education by equipping students with an understanding of world cultures and their histories from multiple disciplinary perspectives, and by encouraging the development of critical thinking, reading, research, and writing skills.

The art history program has a uniquely flexible curricular design in that it permits students to pursue art history as either a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science (p. 24) degree. The BA degree is intended for students wishing to become professional art historians or who wish to supplement the art history curriculum with other courses leading to a specific career path. The BS degree is designed to allow students to combine the art history major with another major or to tailor the curriculum to their specific interests and aspirations. Both the BA and BS degrees require a total of 181.0 credit hours.

Bachelor of Arts

The BA degree requires 60.0 credit hours of art history, 75.0 credit hours of General Education courses, and 46.0 credit hours of Free Electives. The BA degree requires a strong component of Arts and Humanities courses in order to prepare students to enter the professional world of art historians by exposing them to critical reasoning, philosophy, anthropology, literature, world cultures, and foreign languages. The 46.0 credit hours of Free Electives can be used under faculty advisement to take additional art history courses, develop special competencies and areas of interest (e.g., race and gender studies; the histories of technology, science and philosophy; Asian or Africana studies; writing, literature, and criticism; design history; museum studies, etc.), or gain competencies in various applied or technical areas. This BA program requires two 3-month co-ops.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Co-op Opportunities

Drexel's enviable geographical location in the northeast corridor of the United States provides a distinct advantage for an art history program because of the proximity of many important Museums, galleries, and auction houses. The Philadelphia Museum of Art, Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Barnes Foundation, Rodin Museum, Institute of Contemporary Art, and the Penn Museum of Archeology and Anthropology are all local and easily accessible. Museums, galleries and auction houses in New York, Washington, Baltimore and other east coast centers are all within a reasonable distance by train, bus, or car. These institutions will offer students an abundance of opportunities for first-hand study of the major collections of art, architecture, and design. Proximity to these institutions can also provide for many choice opportunities for cooperative education experiences.

Some possibilities include:

- Barnes Foundation
- Philadelphia Museum of Art
- Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts
- American Philosophical Society
- Moderne Gallery
- Calderwood Gallery
- RagoArts Auction House, Lambertville, NJ
- Asian Arts Initiative
- Twelve Gates Gallery for Contemporary South Asian Art
- Newark Museum, NJ
- Metropolitan Museum of Art
- Brooklyn Museum
- Mural Arts Program
- Asia Society NY
- Christie's NY

Career Opportunities

A major in art history can prepare students for a wide variety of careers, as well as preparation for graduate school.

Possible career paths:

- Museum Administrator
- Gallery Director
- Curator
- Museum Registrar
- Museum Educator
- Art Consultant
- Art Librarian
- Editor
- Art and/or Intellectual Property Law
- Artist Representative
- Non-profit and governmental organizations
- Teacher (K-12)
- Teacher/Researcher (college and university)

As a particularly broad humanities discipline, art history serves as an outstanding pre-professional degree, providing excellent preparation for a wide variety of professions, such as law, medicine, education and library science.

Program Level Outcomes

- Identify and classify works of art, architecture and design as expressions of the values, concerns, assumptions, and ideas of the historical cultures that produced them.
- Demonstrate a broad visual familiarity with a wide variety of art objects
- Demonstrate a command of grammar, syntax and spelling sufficient to write a 30-page paper on an art historical topic.
- Find and utilize authoritative sources in the scholarly literature
- Read art historical literature at a level sufficient to qualify for graduate study
- Perform library research (including on-line/electronic) efficiently and effectively
- Distinguish the difference between primary and secondary sources (artifactual and documentary) and use them effectively
- Apply critical thinking to the investigation of art historical questions and problems
- Apply the above-mentioned skills to the study of other disciplines and to the problems of life and work

The BS degree is designed to allow students to combine the art history major with another major or to tailor the curriculum to their specific interests and aspirations. Both the BA and BS degrees require a total of 181.0 credit hours.

Bachelor of Science

The BS degree also requires 60.0 credit hours of art history, but it only requires 36.0 credit hours of General Education courses, thereby freeing up 85.0 credit hours of coursework to accommodate another major or to design a personalized curriculum. The 85.0 credit hours of free electives provided by the BS degree permits the student to simultaneously pursue a second major, one or more minors, or simply explore the life of the mind by taking courses, with faculty advisement, in diverse fields. This program does not require a co-#op taken in addition to that which is required by the second major.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Drexel's enviable geographical location in the northeast corridor of the United States provides a distinct advantage for an art history program because of the proximity of many important Museums, galleries, and auction houses. The Philadelphia Museum of Art, Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Barnes Foundation, Rodin Museum, Institute of Contemporary Art, and the Penn Museum of Archeology and Anthropology are all local and easily accessible. Museums, galleries and auction houses in New York, Washington, Baltimore and other east coast centers are all within a reasonable distance by train, bus, or car. These institutions will offer students an abundance of opportunities for first-hand study of the major collections of art, architecture, and design. Proximity to these institutions can also provide for many choice opportunities for cooperative education experiences.

Some possibilities include:

- Barnes Foundation
- Philadelphia Museum of Art
- Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts
- American Philosophical Society
- Moderne Gallery
- Calderwood Gallery
- RagoArts Auction House, Lambertville, NJ
- Asian Arts Initiative
- Twelve Gates Gallery for Contemporary South Asian Art
- Newark Museum, NJ
- Metropolitan Museum of Art
- Brooklyn Museum
- Mural Arts Program
- Asia Society NY
- Christie's NY

Career Opportunities

A major in art history can prepare students for a wide variety of careers, as well as preparation for graduate school.

Possible career paths:

- Museum Administrator
- Gallery Director
- Curator
- Museum Registrar
- Museum Educator
- Art Consultant
- Art Librarian
- Editor
- Art and/or Intellectual Property Law
- Artist Representative
- Non-profit and governmental organizations
- Teacher (K-12)
- Teacher/Researcher (college and university)

As a particularly broad humanities discipline, art history serves as an outstanding pre-professional degree, providing excellent preparation for a wide variety of professions, such as law, medicine, education and library science.

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/>) page for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Program Level Outcomes

- Identify and classify works of art, architecture and design as expressions of the values, concerns, assumptions, and ideas of the historical cultures that produced them.
- Demonstrate a broad visual familiarity with a wide variety of art objects
- Demonstrate a command of grammar, syntax and spelling sufficient to write a 30-page paper on an art historical topic.
- Find and utilize authoritative sources in the scholarly literature
- Read art historical literature at a level sufficient to qualify for graduate study
- Perform library research (including on-line/electronic) efficiently and effectively
- Distinguish the difference between primary and secondary sources (artifactual and documentary) and use them effectively
- Apply critical thinking to the investigation of art historical questions and problems
- Apply the above-mentioned skills to the study of other disciplines and to the problems of life and work

Dance BS

Major: Dance
Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)
Calendar Type: Quarter
Minimum Required Credits: 186.0
Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)
Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) code: 50.0399
Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 25-1121; 27-2031; 27-2032

About the Program

The dance program at Drexel University provides intensive exploration of dance in its physical, intellectual, creative and therapeutic aspects. The major is designed for students to focus on one of the following four concentrations:

- Dance/Movement Therapy
- Dance Education
- Physical Therapy
- Custom Design/Performance

The dance major at Drexel University has a unique curriculum design and focus. This program combines rigorous academic coursework with extensive stage and studio dance experiences to prepare students for four possible career paths within dance: dance/movement therapy, dance in education, physical therapy and performance. Students participating in this major will earn a BS degree in dance with an optional minor in psychology.

Students focused on dance/movement therapy will prepare for jobs as dance/movement therapists. These are psychological counselors working in a variety of settings including hospitals, out-patient clinics and residential treatment centers. Students pursuing this option will earn a BS degree in dance at the Westphal College, through the Department of Performing Arts, for the first four years of study. They will then have the option to continue on to two years of study in the College of Nursing and Health Professions to earn an MA in Creative Arts in Therapy and become a licensed dance therapist.

The second career focus, dance education, leads to PK–12 dance certification and offers the option to continue into a fifth year to earn an MS in Teaching, Learning, and Curriculum, along with additional certification in PK–4 elementary education. This track emphasizes community-engaged learning and includes student teaching experiences within Philadelphia schools.

The third career focus, physical therapy, prepares students to work as physical therapists in a variety of settings, including hospitals, treatment centers, schools, and private practice. Students interested in the physical therapy option will complete the four-year BS degree in dance, along with a series of recommended electives in the physical sciences. After completion of the BS degree, students will continue their education for an additional three years in the College of Nursing and Health Professions to earn a DPT and become a licensed physical therapist.

The fourth option, custom design, allows students to work closely with faculty to create a personalized career in dance. Many students in this focus select performance, which prepares them to work as performers and/or choreographers in a variety of settings. Students interested in the performance option will complete the four-year BS degree in dance, with an emphasis on collaborative and interdisciplinary work.

The student who enters the dance major at Drexel University is an academically achieving student who has a deep curiosity for non-traditional careers in the field of dance. He or she is looking for extensive experiences to improve as a dancer, choreographer and performer while being stimulated academically. This student wants to study dance—both physically and cognitively—in college while being offered the possibility of gainful employment after graduation.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

The dance major is designed for students to focus on one of four career options. Several of the concentrations lead to graduate study at Drexel or may be completed at the end of four years. Each also includes a co-op experience that allows for extended interaction with professionals in dance therapy, physical therapy, education, and performance. Students wishing to change career focus throughout the course of the undergraduate curriculum will have the option to do so.

Students focusing on dance/movement therapy participate in a six month co-op experience during the spring and summer terms of their junior year. These students may participate in co-op with a practicing dance/movement therapist, community dance artist, or mental health professional in a mental health, social service, rehabilitation, medical, special education or community arts setting.

Students focusing on physical therapy, will participate in a six month co-op in which they work in a setting with a physical therapist, such as a hospital, treatment center, school, or private practice. Co-op experiences where students are able to work with physical therapists working on dancers as clients will be encouraged.

Students focusing on dance in education participate in after school dance programs, artist in residence school partnerships and auditorium lecture demonstration programs as part of a touring dance company run by the dance program at Drexel, or other dance education focused activities in a school or studio setting, during the fall and winter of their junior year as their co-op experience.

Students focusing on custom design or performance may participate in a six month co-op including performance, administration, production, event planning and grant writing. Students interested in performance will work with professional choreographers to experience multiple aspects of creating a sustainable life in performance and/or choreography.

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/>) page for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Develop and demonstrate skills for critical thinking and the application of these skills in therapy, pedagogy, and performance
- Demonstrate visual literacy and kinesthetic proficiency, including developing advanced skills in multiple dance techniques and practices
- Appreciate each dance form for its aesthetic properties and interactions with time periods and culture
- Understand the interdisciplinary nature of dance and dance-related fields
- Understand the value of diversity through a developing awareness of the world and their place in it
- Demonstrate an understanding of physical and emotional self-care practices
- Demonstrate a professional work ethic
- Develop choreographic and improvisational skills
- Understand and demonstrate a knowledge of musculoskeletal anatomy, kinesiology and musicality
- Describe movement using a range of personal and cultural lenses

Dance - Part-Time Professional Option BS

Major: Dance

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 186.0

Co-op Options: None

Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) code: 50.0399

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 25-1121; 27-2031; 27-2032

About the Program

The Part-Time Professional Dance Program provides an opportunity for professional dancers to earn their BS degree in dance through a specially designed part-time program at Drexel University's Westphal College of Media Arts and Design. Participating students will fulfill the requirements of the current dance major curriculum over an extended period of time, with the exception of the studio dance technique and performance class requirements, which will be fulfilled through their professional dance company experiences.

This program can grant up to 50.0 credit hours of studio and performance-based courses to the participating students based on their professional experiences. The remaining 136.0 credit hours include 41.0 credit hours of the general education requirement, 55.0 credit hours of Dance Major requirement, and 40.0 credit hours of free electives that are fully online.

Students who enter the program will need a high school diploma or GED equivalency. The students are expected to enroll in 2-3 courses each term with the expectations of finishing the program in four to five years.

Additional Information

For more information about this major, visit the Westphal College of Media Arts and Design's Dance (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/DANC/>) webpage.

Admission Requirements

The Dance Program is offering the online option of the Part-Time Professional BS in Dance, and SAT or ACT testing, normally required for applicants to Drexel University, may be an inaccurate predictor of academic readiness for full time professional dancers who have completed high school several years prior, or taken a GED equivalency exam. In lieu of this testing, this qualifying certificate program is a third option for assessing eligibility for the program.

Students entering the part-time dance major through the certificate program will need to complete the certificate with a GPA of 3.0 for eligibility to enter the dance major.

For the online part time professional dance program, three courses will not be offered online due to the nature of the course content that require physical cueing and adjustments that cannot be translated to online delivery. These three courses are:

- DANC 117: Foundations of Somatic Theory and Practice
- DANC 221: Survey of Dance/Movement Therapy
- DANC 335: Dance Composition II

To make sure the students can complete this part time program without staying on campus for a long period of time, the dance program is going to develop these courses in the short-term residency style. Each residency will be two weeks and will meet 3 hours/per day from Monday to Friday.

Up to 50 Credit hours will be granted based on professional experience. Participating students fulfill the requirements of the full time dance major curriculum, with the exception of co-operative education, and the studio dance technique and performance class requirements, which will be fulfilled through their professional dance company technique classes and performance opportunities. Credit for these studio requirements will be granted as "professional life experience," providing the student is a professional dancer working with a recognized professional dance company. Specific credits granted, up to 50 credits, will be determined by an individual review of each applicant's application.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Entertainment & Arts Management BS

Major: Entertainment & Arts Management

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 183.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) code: 50.1001

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 13-1011

About the Program

The Entertainment & Arts Management (EAM) program at Drexel University is a nationally ranked, international leader in teaching the business of show business, including live performance, recorded media, and visual arts management. Our unique program is a business degree, yet one that is based in the entertainment and arts sectors. Students in the Entertainment and Arts Management major choose an area of concentration from media, performing arts, or visual arts management disciplines. The curriculum is designed to prepare students to lead and manage in both commercial and non-profit areas of the field. Coursework in the EAM program includes general education, core requirements and features a built-in business minor. Students also enjoy a wide-selection of specialized coursework within their chosen area of concentration.

Unlike other undergraduate programs in this field, students are not required to choose commercial or nonprofit. Our philosophy is to prepare students for leadership careers in the vast world of arts and entertainment. This gives EAM students increased flexibility when choosing their career paths, and a distinct professional advantage in today's ever-changing arts and entertainment industries.

Our Goal

Our overall goal in the EAM program is to prepare students for leadership careers in the entertainment and arts fields by giving them:

- a broad understanding of the business of entertainment and the arts, from for-profit commercial entertainment companies to non-profit arts & culture organizations;
- real world work experience;
- creative skills development in the discipline that interests them, and
- expert advice and insight from practicing professionals.

Further Education Opportunities

Students who complete the Entertainment & Arts Management program may also choose to pursue a graduate degree in Drexel University's Westphal College in Television & Media Management or Arts Administration. Students who graduate with a 3.5 GPA in the last two years of the program who apply to the MS in Arts Administration are automatically accepted into the MS program. Other graduate degrees within the college are available to students as well.

Dual Degree BS/MBA Option

Students majoring in Entertainment and Arts Management (4-year with co-op) may choose the BS Entertainment and Arts Management/MBA (p. 108) dual degree option. This highly attractive program option combines study in the management of the arts and entertainment industries along with the MBA degree. The program is designed to allow students to complete both the bachelor's degree and the MBA in five years.

Applying to the Dual Degree BS/MBA Option

Freshman applicants to the Entertainment & Arts Management program with a combined Math and Critical Reading SAT score of 1300 and a 3.5 GPA may apply for the BS/MBA program at the time of their initial application to Drexel University. Current students may choose to apply to the dual degree option once they have achieved between 90.0 and 120.0 credits. All students who are accepted into the accelerated program must maintain a 3.2 GPA as an EAM undergraduate, and must submit two letters of recommendation and meet minimum GMAT requirements at the time of the application to the MBA program.

Additional Information

For more information about this major, visit the College's Entertainment & Arts Management (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/eam/>) page.

Degree Requirements

Coursework in the EAM program includes general education and core requirements as well as specialized coursework within the student's chosen area of concentration and, if applicable, within a specific arts or media discipline. For instance, within the media management concentration, students choose coursework in one of two disciplines: film, video, and screenwriting or digital media. In the performing arts management concentration, students choose coursework in a dance, performing arts, or theatre discipline.

The core requirements provide an overview of the student's future career field and its required key skills and abilities. The core requirements build a foundation for further advanced and specialized courses, taught in the student's area of concentration. At the end of their freshman year, students select one of the following concentrations:

- (A) Visual Arts Management Concentration
- (B) Performing Arts Management
 - a. Dance Concentration
 - b. Performing Arts Concentration
 - c. Theatre Concentration
- (C) Media Arts Management
 - a. Digital Media Concentration
 - b. Cinema and Television Concentration

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Fashion Design BS

Major: Fashion Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 183.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0407

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-1022

About the Program

The Fashion Design program at Drexel University's Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/FASH/>) educates and trains visionary designers to use an integrated approach toward the creation of contemporary fashion within the context of an expanding, yet converging, global economy and society. Through a series of courses offered freshman year, students will explore the challenges facing our industry and learn how to implement inclusive, responsible, and sustainable solutions in their design process. The fusion of art, design, science, and technology serves as a springboard for the production of unique apparel for the 21st century, and represents a transdisciplinary approach that requires flexibility and focus.

Over the past two decades, Drexel's Fashion Design program has developed a stellar, international reputation and is ranked in the top four nationally and 14th worldwide. That is due, in part, to a passionate and experienced faculty, novel approaches to pedagogy, and participation in national and international competitions. Faculty and alumni connections to industry leaders strongly augment and catalyze the program, the strength of which is closely linked to the philosophy that each student has a distinct vision and a unique aesthetic that must be cultivated on an individual basis.

Students have 24-hour access to state-of-the-art studios including CLO-3D virtual garment simulation, CLO-3D pattern making, Shima Seiki Apex design technology, and automated knitwear machines. The Shima Seiki Fashion Knitting Lab (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/graduate/FASH/research/shima-seiki/>), located on third floor of the URBN Center, features the latest equipment for the design, simulation, and production of fully fashioned knitwear. Students can engage in collaborative University-wide research through the use of the Drexel University Center for Functional Fabrics (<https://drexel.edu/functional-fabrics/>) and the Hybrid Making Lab (https://drexel.edu/westphal/about/overview/making_spaces/HybridMakingLab/) located on the URBN Center's first floor. They acquire detailed knowledge about industrial productions, advanced technologies in design, collaborative design, materials and processes, and the marketing and merchandising of clothing in this maker focused program.

Accordingly, our future fashion designers, both undergraduates and graduates alike, develop an intuitive and practical understanding of design through a fine arts foundation, while studying the psychological, social, and historical contexts of fashion through the world-renowned Robert and Penny Fox Historic Costume Collection (<http://www.drexel.edu/foxcollection/>) (FHCC). Importantly, the students are provided with commercial studio/atelier training that goes hand in hand with classroom instruction through the University's cooperative education program (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/co-op/>). Cooperative education offers invaluable opportunities for students to observe and participate in the fashion industry at the ground level. Critiques by visiting professionals are included in all upper level courses and provide valuable "real world" input as well as future career connections. A large percentage of students spend a term studying abroad (<http://www.drexel.edu/studyabroad/>) in the world's great fashion capitals, including London (https://studyabroad.drexel.edu/?FuseAction=Programs.ViewProgram&Program_ID=10070&Type=O&sType=O England and Florence (https://studyabroad.drexel.edu/?FuseAction=Programs.ViewProgram&Program_ID=40220), Italy. Students can also choose from a range of intensive courses abroad (ICA) such as Drexel's Fashion Break in South Korea: Korean Fashion Industry (https://studyabroad.drexel.edu/?FuseAction=Programs.ViewProgram&Program_ID=47802). Upon graduation, students show their capstone senior thesis collections (<https://westphal.design/FD/FashionShow22/>) in the annual professional juried fashion show.

Co-op cycles may vary. Students are assigned a co-op cycle (fall/winter, spring/summer, summer-only) based on their co-op program (4-year, 5-year) and major.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Drexel Co-op is a renowned collegiate program. Students spend a minimum of six months either in the US (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/co-op/>) or abroad (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/co-op/international/>) where they can apply their skills in the challenging and exciting fashion industry. Areas of opportunity include garment design, concept design, product development, production, textile design, costume design, technical design, CAD, publishing, curatorial work, promotion, and marketing. During the cooperative education, program students apply their industry knowledge and gain experience in the diverse, fast paced global world of fashion. Students forge long lasting relationships with alumni and other industry professionals.

Facilities

Drexel University's Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design is located in the new URBN Center at 3501 Market Street in Philadelphia. The URBN Center is a 140,000-square-foot, state-of-the art facility where the Fashion Design studios are located on the third floor.

Classes are held in fully equipped studios for design and construction, pattern drafting, CAD design, 3-D garment simulation, and textile design including a dedicated senior and graduate design studio. Other studios on the third floor include a specialty equipment lab, computer lab, knitwear studio, a fabric dying and research lab, fashion drawing studio, and the Charles Evans Library. In our state-of-the art knitwear lab, students have access to Shima Seiki's computerized flat knitting machine and APEX Design Systems.

The R (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/resources/FHCC/>) Jobert and Penny Fox Historic Costume Collection (<http://www.drexel.edu/foxcollection/>) (FHCC), currently estimated to hold more than 12,000 objects, is located on the first floor and is an invaluable library, archive, gallery, and educational tool for our students as well as scholars, historians, artists, and designers in the national and international community. Also located on the first floor is the Hybrid Making Lab (http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/about/overview/making_spaces/HybridMakingLab/). This lab provides collaborative design and research opportunities both within Westphal College and University wide. The Shima Seiki Fashion Knitting Lab (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/graduate/FASH/research/shima-seiki/>) is located on the third floor of the URBN Center. The Shima Seiki Haute Technology Lab, located at 3401 Market Street, welcomes students and faculty from across the University as well as the community.

The open environment of the URBN Center provides opportunity for collaboration with all of the programs at the Westphal College. Design & Merchandising is on the first floor, opposite the main lobby where work from all of the College's students is regularly displayed. Digital Media, Animation & Visual Effects, Game Art & Production, Web Development & Interaction Design, Product Design, Graphic Design, Interiors, and Architecture's studios and labs are also located in the URBN Center. The Center encourages anyone interested to schedule a visit to experience the creativity, technology, innovation, and resulting excitement.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Analyze and synthesize research to reflect personal philosophies, integrate technology and generate insightful design solutions
- Articulate and communicate innovative design concepts to lead in an evolving global industry
- Embrace virtual design as it pertains to the global fashion industry
- Demonstrate a balance for strong visual skills and technical acumen
- Demonstrate knowledge of pertinent digital design tools for use in the fashion industry and cross-disciplinary application
- Demonstrate problem solving skills for application in national and global fashion enterprise and entrepreneurship
- Develop, express, and communicate creative ideas to create product that is sustainable, ethical and inclusive
- Synthesize and edit visual information to create cohesive and inventive presentations
- Explore collaborative opportunities in a comprehensive university setting
- Develop a functional understanding of textiles

Fashion Industry & Merchandising BS

Major: Fashion Industry & Merchandising
Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)
Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 181.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 52.1902

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 13-1022

About the Program

Drexel's innovative Fashion Industry & Merchandising major integrates visual design, merchandising, and business insight for the fashion lifestyle industries. The Bachelor of Science degree educates students to conceptualize, plan, develop, market, and measure the opportunity for products and services for consumers through physical stores, online channels, televised content, and interactive media. Students develop thorough knowledge of how products come to life through sustainable textiles, design, and production, and strategize the optimal assortment, inventory, and pricing for business goals. The multidisciplinary curriculum, based on both theory and practice, is delivered through immersive, experiential learning. Graduates work across the fashion lifestyle industries engaged in creative strategies, dynamic merchandise assortments, and new product lines for global consumer markets.

The program is ranked in the top four of fashion merchandising colleges in the United States by Fashion-schools.org and in the top fifteen of fashion and business management programs in the world by Business of Fashion and highlighted as best overall, best in global influence and best in learning experience. Drexel is one of the nation's top universities located in Philadelphia, the sixth largest city, with easy access to the city's rich cultural life, vibrant design scene, and pivotal retail and entrepreneurial marketplace. From buying and fashion marketing to sustainability and product development, companies in Philadelphia, New York City, Boston, Los Angeles, and other cities offer students a variety of career paths in wholesale, retail, textiles, sourcing, media, marketing, visual merchandising, and public relations.

Discover a Dynamic Future in the Fashion Lifestyle Industries

Students will participate in Drexel's renown cooperative education (co-op) program, spending six months away from the classroom gaining in-demand career skills, bringing products and services to consumers, and receiving exposure to valuable industry networks. Co-op employers include Anthropologie, Lagos, Nuuly, Few Moda, Urban Outfitters, Michelle Marie PR, Marchesa, Free People, CS Global Group, and others.

Students take fashion business courses that promote real-world project-based learning. Students work in functional teams exploring business challenges and mapping out opportunities. Industry professionals and fashion merchandising entrepreneurs mentor students and critique business strategies.

Students expand their global intelligence through robust study abroad options from Drexel Global, including the highly popular London College of Fashion, Accademia Italiana in Florence, Sustainable Fashion in Paris, and Korean Fashion Industry in Seoul.

Students will tailor their interests and passions via career pathway electives allowing targeted study in ecommerce, fashion marketing, communications, magazine and media publication, product development, entrepreneurship, and others. Students also produce the award-winning Design & Merchandising Magazine.

Students will learn in a fashion merchandising program that has sustainability integrated throughout the curriculum along with courses that evaluate the intersection of society, culture, and fashion.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-> writing-program/). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>)

Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Film & Television BS

Major: Film and Television

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 187.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) code: 50.0602

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-2012; 27-4031; 27-4032

About the Program

The Film & Television major offers a balance of technical craft and artistic vision that prepares students to pursue professional careers in the Film and Television industries. The program is hands-on with core themes driving each year: Story, Voice, Professional Practice, and Implementation. There is also substantial coursework in screenwriting and film studies.

This highly competitive program, with only sixty-four freshmen accepted annually, features smaller classes that foster student-faculty interaction and mentoring, as well as ample access to excellent equipment. The unique Drexel co-op and Los Angeles Summer Program enhance education by providing students with professional employment experience.

Virtual courses and virtual components to courses play a small but important role in the curriculum for Film and Television. They allow us to attract talented faculty and speakers from across the country and expose students to real-world experiences of film production and the exposure to world class situations that would be impossible in a face-to-face setting.

The Film & Television program also offers a minor in Film Studies (p. 150).

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Students who study film and video can move on to careers as film or video directors, producers, video or film editors, directors of photography (film), camerawork, as well as grips and special effects coordinators.

Co-Op Experiences

Some past co-op employers of film and video students include:

- USA Network, New York
- Comcast, Philadelphia
- Bad Robot, Los Angeles
- ICM, Los Angeles
- Focus Features, New York

- Law & Order, New York
- NFL Films, Mount Laurel, New Jersey
- Tribeca Film Center, New York
- National Geographic Television, Washington DC
- NBC, New York
- Paramount Studios, Los Angeles
- MTV, New York

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/>) page for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Facilities

Film and Television facilities include a shooting studio; two screening rooms; post-production labs for editing, color correction and audio recording & mixing; a content creation studio for podcast, vodcast, and interviews; specially outfitted multimedia rooms; state of the art film production equipment including cameras, steadicams, lighting and audio equipment.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Develop and demonstrate the skills of an effective storyteller
- Obtain and demonstrate advanced skills in the craft of film and television production
- Develop a specialized expertise in an area of film and television production such as editing, cinematography, producing, sound, directing, etc.
- Demonstrate a strong understanding of film history
- Display a firm grasp on industry protocols and standards
- Understand the distribution and potential of one's own work
- Demonstrate a multi-skilled approach to the industry

Film & Video Faculty

Ian N. Abrams, BA (Duke University). Associate Professor. Screenwriting, movies, film, Hollywood.

John Avarese, BS (Drexel University). Assistant Teaching Professor. Composer, film and video scores, mixing and sound design.

Alison Bagnall, BA (Yale University). Visiting Professor. Filmmaker

David Culver, AS (Graham Junior College) Manager of the Paul F. Harron Studios/DUTV. Associate Teaching Professor. Film, Video, Station Management, Emerging Media Technology

David Deneen, BFA (Philadelphia College of Art). Assistant Teaching Professor. Film & video.

Gerard M. Hooper, MFA (Temple University). Associate Teaching Professor. Film and video; European and non-western cinema.

D. B. Jones, PhD (Stanford University). Professor. Film and video; cinema studies.

Matthew Kaufhold, MA (University of North Carolina) Program Director, Screenwriting and Playwriting. Associate Teaching Professor. Screenwriter, Producer.

Karin P. Kelly, MFA (New York University) Department Head, Cinema and Television. Associate Professor. Film and video; filmmaker and author.

Yvonne D. Leach, MFA (Temple University). Associate Professor. Television studies.

Thomas Quinn, MFA (Temple University) Program Director, Film & Video. Assistant Professor. Writer, Director, filmmaker.

Philip W. Salas, BS (Temple University). Assistant Teaching Professor. Utilization of advanced set top box data to measure fragmented viewing behavior. Impact of new television distribution technologies on traditional broadcasters and multichannel program providers.

David A. Schwartz, BA (Rider University). Associate Teaching Professor. Steadicam operator; cameraman.

Jocelyn Tarquini-Motter, MFA (American Film Institute). Assistant Teaching Professor. Editing.

Albert S. Tedesco, MA (University of Pennsylvania) Director of the Paul F. Harron Graduate Program in Television Management. Teaching Professor. Media Management, Organizational Structure, Research Methods, Media Ethics, Media Law, The Regulatory Environment, Technology Assessment, Media Theory, Media Analytics Gregory S. Wolmart, MFA (University of Pennsylvania). Assistant Professor. Cinema studies; film history.

Game Design & Production BS

Major: Game Design and Production

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 191.0

Co-op Options: Three Co-op (Five years); One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 11.0899

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-1014; 25-1199

About the Program

Drexel's Game Design & Production undergraduate major, nationally ranked as a top program for game design by multiple organizations, such as the Princeton Review (ranked #7 in 2025), provides students with a broad foundation in digital design and content creation skills in team project environments. In Drexel's generalist-to-specialist approach, students experience a wide variety of roles in bringing a game all the way through production – from pie-in-the-sky idea to playable reality. Through this process of discovery, students learn about themselves and the skill focuses that they want to pursue, minors and electives they want to study, and how to create a game as part of a team throughout the program.

Drexel's Game Design & Production program is committed to making the game development environment, and by extension the industry at large, a supportive and welcoming community for all voices. The democratization of game making tools enables anyone to tell their story in this immersive and interactive medium. We in the program are excited to guide and support the next generation of storytellers as they create new works that entertain and reflect upon the full spectrum of the human experience.

The major supports careers in every industry that utilizes real-time interactive digital experiences. Our graduates have measurable value to the entertainment sector of computer, mixed-reality, mobile, and console games industries. Beyond entertainment, our graduates are needed in countless industries, anywhere in the world, that utilize interactive digital environments for simulation, training, marketing, communication, or education.

Our focus on project-based teamwork prepares students for cross-disciplinary work in any scale at any size of company. From big-budget AAA blockbuster game studios with team sizes in the hundreds with specialist technicians and artists, to small- and medium-sized companies where developers have broad skill bases, to small independent studios – including those founded by our entrepreneurial students. Drexel Dragons can be specialists with a strong foundation that allows them to adapt, to be flexible bridge-builders and liaisons across art and technical teams, and rugged entrepreneurs running their own start-up.

Digital content creation is a dynamically evolving industry. Certain processes and jobs that exist today may be automated within five years, with the recent developments in imitative artificial intelligence tools being the latest example. Companies small to large will use established and newly developed commercially available tools, but also build and maintain proprietary in-house tools and pipelines.

Courses in Drexel's program evolve in response to, and in anticipation of, industry trends and on-demand special topic courses are taught to rapidly respond to student and industry developments. Familiarity with the latest industry standard for tools is important but student skills must be transferrable and tool-agnostic – to adapt to a 3D modeling tool like Blender, 3DS Max, Maya, or proprietary in-house tools that are only accessible within the company that develops them. Drexel's program encourages students to become adept at the core processes of digital creation, not just a single piece of software.

Our courses are predominantly offered face-to-face on campus, but we also feature virtual courses taught by a diverse range of experts from across the nation, exposing students to a wide network of active professionals and to the evolving climate of industry work as a significant number of studios have permanently moved to be partially or completely remote, even prior to 2020.

Students start building game assets and games in their first terms as freshmen and continue to create team-based game projects both small and large throughout their plan of study. Interdisciplinary teamwork is a core skill developed in teams of two to over eighteen, often spanning multiple programs including Computer Science, Music Industry, Animation & VFX, Digital Media & Virtual Production, User Experience & Interaction Design, and more. Every project enables students to experiment and refine their experience in the numerous roles required to produce a finished game.

Drexel University offers multiple opportunities to support the entrepreneurial minded student, from Drexel's on-campus indie game incubator, the Entrepreneurial Game Studio (<https://egs.drexel.edu/>), to the Close School of Entrepreneurship (<http://drexel.edu/close/>) and the Baiada Institute for Entrepreneurship (<http://drexel.edu/baiada/>).

Career building begins inside the classroom with team projects and networking, and outside the classroom with six or eighteen months of co-op experiences. (p. 58)

To complement the creative focus of the Game Design & Production major, a minor in Computer Science is popular, and in many cases an ideal supplement for our students. The CS minor increases programming knowledge while maintaining a creative design and production focus in the Game Design & Production major. There are more than 120 minors available at Drexel and many are easy to achieve within our plan of study using free electives. It is important for students to make their minor a personal choice to reflect their specific focus and further personalize their Drexel education experience.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op cycles may vary. Students are assigned a co-op cycle (fall/winter, spring/summer, summer-only) based on their co-op program (4-year, 5-year) and major.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Drexel students have broad training in all areas of game design and production, and our students have career opportunities in both entertainment gaming and broader simulation/training industries, and anywhere interactive gaming technology is applied - a growing segment in all industries.

Co-op Experiences

Building a career often begins with a few key contacts - especially through alums already working professionally - and the co-op program gives Drexel students the chance to meet professionals, make their skills known, and build their personal network.

In addition to small and large entertainment companies, students have opportunities to explore how game design is applicable to many local and international industries ranging from aerospace to pharmaceuticals to home and yacht design.

Recent co-op opportunities include game and digital media jobs in Philadelphia region companies like Art Sphere, Big Moxi Games, Comcast, DVNC Tech, eNable Games, Entrepreneurial Game Studio, GLIDE Lab, Gossamer Games, iD Tech Game Design & Development Academy, IDEA, Night Kitchen Interactive, Penn Medicine, PHL Collective, QuadraTron Games, Skyless Game Studios, Tipping Point Media, and Virtual Health.

Students also secured game and digital media co-ops at national and international companies, like Activision in Los Angeles, Amazon Robotics remotely, EA Games remotely, Infinity Ward remotely, Rockstar Games in San Diego, Treyarch remotely, Twisted Ark in Helsinki, and Inter Media Japan in Tokyo.

Career Experiences

Our network of successful game development alum work in leading entertainment companies including 343 Industries, Activision, Avalanche, Blizzard, Disney, EA Games, Epic Games, Filament Games, Firaxis Games, Gearbox Software, Ghost Story Games, Industrial Light & Magic, Infinity Ward, Insomniac, Irrational Games, Level Ex, Magic Fuel Games, Microsoft Studios, Microsoft Xbox, Midway, Mojang, NCsoft, NeatherRealm Studios, Nexon, Oculus VR, Raven Software, Riot Games, Rockstar Games, Rovio, Running With Scissors, Schell Games, Sony SCEA, Spry Fox, The Coalition, Turn 10 Studios, Volition, ZeniMax Online, and Zynga.

Other students chose small-to-mid-size studios or launch their own digital media enterprises, like Tom Fulp (BS '02), founder of Newgrounds.com, or indie game companies, like Dan Fornace (BS '11), creator of Rivals of Aether, Greg Lobanov (BS '14), creator of Wandersong & Chicory, or Tom Sharpe (BS '16), director of Gossamer Games and their award-winning title, Sole. Students also chose to work outside of entertainment by applying their game production skills to training, simulation, marketing, or education endeavors with companies including Amazon Robotics, BRDG Studios, Comcast Labs, Fred Rogers Productions, Lockheed Martin, Tipping Point Media, and Vanguard.

Jobs titles include Art Director, Art Producer, Animator, Associate Producer, Character Animator, Cinematic Lead, Cinematics Animator, Community Manager, Digital Project Coordinator, Director of Virtual Production, Facial Capture Artist, Game Designer, Lead Cinematic Animator, Lead Technical Director, Lead Virtual Production Manager, Localization Producer, Marketing Manager, Motion Capture Technician, Previsualization Supervisor, Production Coordinator, Program Manager, Programmer, Senior Animator, Senior Artist, Senior Community Manager, Simulation Developer, Technical Artist, and Virtual Production Engineer and Manager.

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/>) page for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Dual Accelerated Degrees

BS/MS in Digital Media

The accelerated degree programs enable academically qualified students to earn both a bachelor's and a master's degree in five years instead of six — graduating sooner than they would in traditional programs. In addition, the graduate-level courses students take in their junior and senior years are included in their undergraduate tuition, which saves almost a year's worth of their MS tuition.

Current Drexel students in the 4-year/1-Co-Op program may apply for an accelerated degree programs after completing 70.0 credits, but no more than 120.0 credits. Many of our accelerated students have gone on to careers at leading companies including Disney, Dreamworks, Industrial Light & Magic, Microsoft Studios, NCSOFT, Netflix, and Pixar.

Program Level Outcomes

- Create playable digital games, available on current platforms and technology
- Understand the key concepts of the rules of play, and their implications in a game environment
- Gain a working knowledge of the entire game design pipeline
- Interact successfully on multidisciplinary teams

Game Design and Production Faculty

Theo Artz, BFA (Tyler School of Art, Temple University). Associate Professor. Digital media.

Paul Diefenbach, PhD (University of Pennsylvania). Assistant Professor. Game development, real-time rendering.

Jeremy Fernsler, BA (Pennsylvania State University) Program Director, Game Design & Production. Assistant Teaching Professor. Digital effects artist; compositor and animator for the feature film visual effects industry.

Troy Finamore, MS (Drexel University) Program Director, Interactive Digital Media. Assistant Teaching Professor. Advertising, design and interactivity.

Nick Jushchyshyn, MFA (Academy of Art University) Program Director, Animation and Visual Effects. Assistant Teaching Professor. Visual effects, digital media and animation.

Frank J. Lee, PhD (Carnegie Mellon University). Associate Professor. Human-computer interaction; cognitive engineering and science; intelligent software agents for games and education.

Robert Lloyd, MFA (Temple University). Assistant Teaching Professor. Game development, themed entertainment and motion simulation.

David Mauriello, BA (Lafayette College). Assistant Professor. 3D modeling and animation.

Glen Muschio, PhD (Temple University). Associate Professor. Digital media, society, communication.

Jervis Thompson, BS (Drexel University). Associate Teaching Professor. Digital media, interactive multimedia.

Jichen Zhu, PhD (Georgia Institute of Technology). Assistant Professor. Developing humanistic and interpretive framework of computational technology, particularly artificial intelligence (AI), and constructing AI-based cultural artifacts; interactive storytelling, games and software studies.

Graphic Design BS

Major: Graphic Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 192.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0409

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-1024

About the Program

Westphal College's Graphic Design curriculum provides a balance of theory and practice in rigorous design study enhanced by general education coursework in the humanities and the physical and social sciences. Students learn to conceptualize, visualize and realize visual communications through the rigor of project-based exploration and experimentation based on the formal foundations of typography, image-making, aesthetics and critical thinking. Graphic Design students are immersed in all aspects of visual communications such as motion, web and interactive design, books, magazines and publications (print and screen based), posters, advertising, packaging, exhibition design and data visualization. Working on two- and three-dimensional projects and electronic media, students utilize the latest applications and emerging technologies to stay current with the industry.

Graphic Design students can also pursue advanced elective coursework in web and motion graphic design, environmental graphic design, experimental publication design and other interdisciplinary special topics projects.

Additional Information

For more information about the major, visit the Graphic Design (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/vscm/>) program webpage or contact Program Director Bill Rees (wbr24@drexel.edu).

Co-op cycles may vary. Students are assigned a co-op cycle (fall/winter, spring/summer, summer-only) based on their co-op program (4-year, 5-year) and major.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Potential employers include advertising agencies, publishers, printers, independent and in-house design studios, museums and galleries, magazines and newspapers, and television. Training in visual communication prepares an individual for careers in many fields because the problem-solving methods and organizational skills it builds are widely applicable.

Facilities

The Graphic Design studios are located on the fourth floor of the URBN Center in the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts and Design. There are five dedicated studios equipped with up-to-date electronic and traditional tools. Studios have work surfaces for traditional practices that will accommodate fifteen students and wall surfaces for critiques or posting examples of printed work. In addition, students have access to a dedicated, non-scheduled graphic design "open lab" equipped with all necessary technology and work surfaces.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Demonstrate the ability to think critically and logically as applied to the design process
- Demonstrate strong verbal communication, writing, and presentation skills

- Demonstrate high levels of professionalism in the workplace
- Demonstrate a mastery of conceptual thinking/problem solving
- Demonstrate an understanding of environmental concerns
- Demonstrate the ability to collaborate effectively across disciplines
- Demonstrate a mastery of analog skills combined with digital technology to effectively develop, evaluate, refine and complete projects in a wide variety of settings where effective visual communication is required
- Demonstrate a mastery of self-evaluation techniques

Graphic Design Faculty

Jack Cliggett, MFA (Syracuse University). Associate Professor. Graphic design; logo design, corporate identity, Chinese propaganda, and thesis.

Interior Design BS

Major: Interior Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 187.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0408

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-1025

About the Program

The undergraduate Interior Design program explores the behavioral, technological, environmental, and aesthetic aspects of interior design within the context of increasingly more complex design projects.

Combined with art and art history, and general education requirements, a core of interior design courses creates a unique education at the forefront of design. Through academics grounded in problem-solving design studios, cooperative employment, and a dedicated faculty, the Interior Design program prepares students for leadership positions in the industry. The Interior Design program is consistently ranked among the top programs in the country and in the survey by DesignIntelligence of "America's Best Design Schools."

The BS in Interior Design program is CIDA (Council for Interior Design Accreditation) and NASAD (National Association of Schools of Art & Design) accredited.

Program Philosophy and Mission

The mission of the Interior Design program is to prepare students to enter the field of interior design as skilled designers, creative thinkers, professional leaders, and responsible citizens. We cultivate students who acknowledge their responsibilities to the safety and well-being of the public and the stewardship of the environment to lead a multifaceted profession in an ever-changing world. The curriculum combines a studio-based design sequence with broad liberal arts study and experiential learning. Paired with a well-established professional co-op, the coursework is structured to build upon the fundamentals of interior design and to anticipate and reflect change in a continually evolving industry. The program encourages exploration and experimentation that fosters lifelong learners who will contribute to the profession and the discipline's body of knowledge.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Interior design is a multi-faceted field and includes careers with interior design firms, architectural firms, and facilities management organizations; in governmental agencies; and in the furniture and textile industries. Full-time paid employment in the profession is an integral component of the program at Drexel. The six-month co-operative education, undertaken in the junior year, provides project-based experience as well as the daily operation of a design firm. Students may opt to do their co-op in Philadelphia or in another location of their choosing. Through a required course and career advisement services offered by the Steinbright Career Development Center, students develop the ability to market themselves and obtain jobs in leading firms worldwide.

Facilities

The Interior Design and Interior Architecture & Design programs are housed in URBN Center, an original Venturi Scott Brown building enhanced by an award-winning retrofit by MS&R Design, which includes a skylight-covered atrium, exposed beams, and open spaces. There are dedicated 24-hour undergraduate and graduate student studios with storage space, computers, and a small lounge area. We have a materials library that is continually updated with samples from major manufacturers and local design offices and showrooms; two computer labs and in-house printing for the use of our students; a Hybrid Making Lab (http://drexel.edu/westphal/about/overview/making_spaces/HybridMakingLab/) with laser cutters, 3-D printers, a CNC router, and small-scale power tools for student use; additionally, a large shop facility which offers wood, metal, casting, CNC, and fabrication equipment.

The URBN Annex houses a black box theater, screening room, and the Leonard Pearlstein Gallery (<http://www.drexel.edu/pearlsteingallery/>). Additional studio and classroom space in the Academic Building and the Design Arts Annex accommodate photography, basic design, painting, sculpture, and a full woodworking shop, including metal, resin, casting, CNC, and fabrication equipment with industrial-quality equipment.

Philadelphia, one of the nation's major design centers and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, gives interior design students the vitality of the contemporary arts at local galleries and easy access to many museums, libraries, and renowned buildings, as well as design centers located in Philadelphia, New York City, and Washington, D.C.

Program Level Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

- Have a global view and consider social, cultural, and economic contexts in all aspects of their work.
- Effectively collaborate and participate in interdisciplinary teams.
- Understand the principles, processes, and responsibilities that define the profession and the value of interior design to society.
- Apply knowledge of human experience and behavior to designing the built environment.
- Employ all aspects of the design process to creatively solve a design problem.
- Express ideas effectively and be good communicators.
- Apply knowledge about the history of interiors, architecture, decorative arts, and art when solving design problems.
- Effectively apply elements and principles of design.
- Effectively apply principles and theories of light and color in relation to environmental impact and human wellbeing.
- Produce complete design solutions that integrate furnishings, products, materials, and finishes.
- Effectively apply the principles of acoustics, thermal comfort, indoor air quality, plumbing systems, and waste management in relation to environmental impact and human wellbeing.
- Understand interior construction and its interrelationship with base building construction and systems.
- Apply laws, codes, standards, and guidelines that impact human experience of interior spaces.

Music Industry BS

Major: Music Industry

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 185.0

Co-op Options: Two Co-ops (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.1003

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-2041; 25-1121

About the Program

The degree in Music Industry offers the highly motivated student a program of study that combines education in music, music industry practices, and music technology with career preparation. Two concentrations are offered—Music Industry Business and Recording Arts (MIBU) and Music Production (RAMP)—providing hands-on experience and a strong academic foundation in relevant areas of this rapidly changing industry. The Music Industry curriculum is divided into four areas which are combined with cooperative experience: general education, music core, music industry core, and concentration requirements.

In an industry where the process of career building often begins with a few key contacts, the cooperative education program provides Drexel students the opportunity to meet industry professionals and network. The program prepares students for careers in the music industry in such diverse positions as recording engineer, music producer, sound designer, music lawyer, business manager, or music publisher. The co-op experience during the sophomore and junior year summer terms involves full-time, career-related employment during which students gain valuable insight into how the entertainment industry works.

About the Concentrations

The major offers two concentrations: Music Industry Business and Recording Arts (MIBU) and Music Production (RAMP):

- The Music Industry Business (MIBU) concentration provides a rigorous academic foundation complemented by a real-world, hands-on, highly intensive business experience. This mission is realized through the students' participation in the MAD Dragon Music Group, a group of student-run enterprises including MAD Dragon Records, MAD Dragon Live, MAD Dragon Publishing, and MAD Dragon Marketing.
- The Recording Arts and Music Production (RAMP) concentration focuses on the techniques and technologies of music and audio production. As well as providing the technology-oriented student with the necessary skills to perform as an audio engineer or record producer, the concentration teaches students a full range of industry functions including post-production audio, live sound engineering, and music and audio freelancing skills. The concentration encourages the technology student to interact with the students in the business concentration by recording, mixing, and mastering the music for MAD Dragon Music Group projects and engaging in live performance production.

All Music Industry students qualify to apply for a minor in Business Administration after completing their Music Industry core requirements. This emphasis on business courses as part of the core requirements is one of the foundations of the program.

Special Admissions Considerations

Students wishing to be admitted to the Music Industry major must meet or exceed the general requirements for admission to the University and the College of Media Arts and Design.

The program no longer accepts hard-copy portfolios; however, when applying to the Music Industry program, applicants are encouraged to use the portfolio portal provided on the Admissions Instructions webpage to upload electronic examples of pertinent activities (music and/or business and entrepreneurial), as well as a resume of music-industry-related experience.

In their major-specific essays, applicants should address their reasons for selecting the Music Industry major at Drexel and share their passion for this unique area of study.

Additional Information

For more information about this major, visit the College's Music Industry (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/mip/>) page.

Degree Requirements

All students take the same general education, music industry core, and business courses. Students choose their concentration at the time of admission; however it is possible to switch as late as the beginning of junior year.

Concentrations:

- Music Industry: Business (MIBU) Concentration
- Music Industry: Recording Arts & Music Production (RAMP) Concentration

Students are also able to take courses in any other concentration as long as they fulfill the prerequisite requirement(s) and there is room in the class to accommodate the student.

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0605

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-4021

About the Program

The Drexel University Photography Program is one of the most elite of its kind in the United States. The students who have completed the Bachelor of Science Photography degree at Drexel have gone on to win The Pulitzer Prize for Photojournalism and The John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Fellowship (<https://www.gf.org/>) for the arts. Their work has also been featured at AIPAD (https://searspeyton.com/exhibition/103/exhibition_works/7951/), one of the world's most prestigious annual photography events and in Times Square, New York City. In the Spring of 2020, Hannah Beier's Senior Thesis project, "Time Apart," was featured on the cover of Time Magazine (<https://time.com/5839765/college-graduation-2020/>). Along with the cover, she had a portfolio of images that were featured inside the magazine.

In addition, alumni have had their work featured in the New York Times Magazine (<https://www.nytimes.com/2017/09/26/magazine/how-fake-news-turned-a-small-town-upside-down.html>), Time Magazine, Philadelphia Magazine, Architectural Digest (<https://www.architecturaldigest.com/story/inside-the-century-old-new-jersey-home-of-squawk-box-joe-kernen/>), Martha Stewart Living, Newsweek, and Italian Vogue (<https://www.vogue.it/en/photography/photostories/2017/05/26/inside-out-by-harris-mizrahi/>). Along with being included in these publications, our alumni have their work included in the permanent collection of the Philadelphia Museum of Art (<https://www.philamuseum.org/collections/permanent/337608.html?mulR=1528382777%7C1>) and PAFA (<https://www.pafa.org/museum/collection-artist/jeffrey-stockbridge/>). The Drexel University Photography Program is without peer in regard to the student outcomes we have achieved.

Our Photography major is unique in the United States because of our teaching approach which blends a high degree of visual literacy together with cutting edge lessons in technology. We prepare our students for the marketplace by teaching every aspect of the medium, beginning in the darkroom, moving on to complex still digital techniques, and incorporating motion and video. Couple all these lessons with the value of having a six-month co-op in the industry and three courses dedicated to photographic business practices and you have the reason why our students have such a high placement rate after graduation.

The College's extensive photographic facilities (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/PHTO/Facilities/>) are available to every photography major at Drexel.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Major: Product Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 191.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 11.0105

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 15-1255; 27-1021; 27-1024; 27-1029

About the Program

The Product Design program at Drexel University explores opportunities in the field of Industrial Design, preparing students for exciting and dynamic careers in the ever-evolving world of product development and innovation. This creative and interdisciplinary program combines the fields of art, engineering, technology, psychology, business, and sociology to equip students with the skills needed to design the products, services, systems and experiences that shape our daily lives.

Our curriculum is centered on teaching students the technical and innovative skills required to develop products for a wide range of industries. Students have access to a range of fabrication facilities which include the Prod Make Lab, the Hybrid Making Lab, the Smart Product Lab, and Empathic Co-Design Lab. The shops, labs and studios are all collaborative, design-centered spaces, built to promote and sustain the studio culture. Students also gain strategic problem-finding and problem-solving skills that can be applied across various contexts. Through hands-on studio work and design research methods focused on product development, commercialization and user experience, our students develop a comprehensive understanding of a human-centered design process.

One of the unique features of our program is the diverse collaboration opportunities available to students. We encourage our students to address challenges in sustainability, social impact design, health, technology, and interdisciplinary product development and innovation. By working with faculty and peers from various disciplines, our students gain a broad perspective on design and its potential to make a positive impact on the world.

Graduates of the Product Design program are well-prepared for a wide range of creative and in-demand careers. Through the rigorous curriculum and co-op employment experience, our alumni have gone on to successful careers as industrial designers in the following areas: consumer products, furniture design, toy design, medical devices, wearable technology, transportation, user experience/user interface (UX/UI), electronics, design research, project management and environmental design. With a Bachelor of Science in Product Design from Drexel University, you'll be equipped with the skills and knowledge needed to make your mark in this exciting field.

Students enrolled in the Product Design major are encouraged to pursue a minor outside of Product Design which allows them to apply their design capabilities towards a specific area of expertise and interest.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Product designers have careers in a wide range of industries including housewares, furniture, consumer electronics, fashion accessories, medical devices, toys, design research, sustainable product design, user experience, as well as automotive and transportation. The work of product designers improves the usefulness and appearance of countless products that contribute to the quality of our work and personal lives.

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://www.drexel.edu/scdc/>) page for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Program Level Outcomes

- Apply, control and manipulate the industrial design process in the production of novel product solutions
- Visual problem-solving methodologies: sketching and physical prototyping to create and communicate ideas
- Strong presentation and written communication skills

- Use of ethnographic and ergonomic research in the production of suitable solutions
- Clearly express personal design decisions and design authorship in the production of relevant design solutions
- Use advanced computing to aid design programs in developing and communicating designs
- Demonstrate a knowledge and respect for design history as a research tool
- Express understanding of design theory and its role in design
- Express understanding and application of design ethics
- Shows evidence of critical thinking and deductive logic
- Formulate an expressed and observable design philosophy
- Investigate evidence of the use and control of manufacturing and advanced modeling technologies
- Incorporation and understanding of advanced digital tools for product AI visualization
- Collaboration with others to produce novel solutions
- Demonstrate empathy for the user and stakeholders
- Develop an eye for beauty and aesthetics
- Familiarity with the professional Product Design / Industrial Design industry

Screenwriting and Playwriting BS

Major: Screenwriting and Playwriting

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 184.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Four years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0504

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-3043

About the Program

Our students and faculty are storytellers at heart, connecting to our world through the tales we tell. The Screenwriting & Playwriting program immerses students in the discipline of writing for production, creating scripts for filmed entertainment, the theater stage and digital delivery. Whether you want to write blockbuster films, a two-hander for a black-box venue, or an episodic web series, the program will guide you with our experiential approach to instruction in small, collaborative classes. You'll graduate with the skills, experience, and confidence to pursue a career in a rewarding and competitive field.

Students acquire the essential skills of dramatic writing and professional best practices, then apply those abilities to the creation of scripts that tell their own uniquely compelling stories. The challenging curriculum offers multiple opportunities to see your work produced on both stage and screen and Drexel's pioneering co-op affords hands-on experience in the industry, working alongside professional artists. The Screenwriting & Playwriting program marks the beginning of the lifelong process of developing your writer's voice, a voice capable of narrating the story of our lives.

The Screenwriting and Playwriting program offers a minor in Screenwriting and a minor in Playwriting (p. 155).

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Entertainment writing is writing for production—work intended for performance on the stage or screen. These days, “screen” can mean movie, TV, or computer, and the work can be anything from full stage plays to 15-second commercials to video game scripts. As the entertainment industry changes, so do the outlets for our students and graduates.

Co-op Experiences

By working for film and television production companies, theater organizations, entertainment management companies, magazines, advertising and public relations firms, and other professional writers, Screenwriting and Playwriting students gain valuable insights into how the entertainment industry works. In an industry where the process of building a career often begins with a few key contacts, the co-op program gives Drexel students the chance to begin shaping their own professional networks.

Screenwriting and Playwriting students have secured co-op or post-graduation positions with:

- IM Global
- Disney Video Animation
- Marvel Comics

- Lionsgate Films
- Skyles Games
- Arden Theater Company
- Campbell's Soup
- Marvel Studios
- Syfy Network
- Nickelodeon
- Dynamite Entertainment

Program Level Outcomes

- Demonstrate superior written and verbal communication skills.
- Develop the skills necessary to conceive and write works intended for the stage or screen.
- Understand the structural aspects of dramatic writing so that completed work will be accepted as professional in quality.
- Acquire a basic understanding of the entertainment industry and how a writer must conduct his or her professional career.
- Comport oneself as a professional among professionals.
- Critically examine current and future media streams to enhance and clarify artistic and professional goals.
- Manipulate basic cinematic production techniques to foster collaborative communication within production units.

Screenwriting and Playwriting Faculty

Ian N. Abrams, BA (Duke University). Associate Professor. Screenwriting, movies, film, Hollywood.

Bruce Graham, BA (Indiana University of Pennsylvania). Associate Teaching Professor. Playwright.

Matthew Kaufhold, MA (University of North Carolina) Program Director, Screenwriting and Playwriting. Associate Teaching Professor. Screenwriter, Producer.

Thomas Quinn, MFA (Temple University) Program Director, Film & Video. Assistant Professor. Writer, Director, filmmaker.

Andrew Susskind, BA (Harvard University) Program Director of TV Production & Media Management. Associate Teaching Professor. Producing for Television, The Sitcom, Directing Single and Multi-Camera

User Experience and Interaction Design BS

Major: User Experience and Interaction Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 184.0

Co-op Options: Three Co-op (Five years)

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 11.0801

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 15-1250

About the Program

Technology and your future career prospects are evolving at lightning speeds. Where it was once as simple as pursuing "website design" or "programming," today's world offers—and demands—more. To truly succeed in tech, you need creativity, versatility, and an interdisciplinary skillset. You need to be able to see through the eyes of the user and understand projects from start to finish. You need to be a unicorn.

User Experience & Interaction Design (UXID) helps you get there.

By combining principles from a range of disciplines, UXID gives you the tools not only to understand technology but also the human principles underpinning it. You'll get exposure to:

- User Experience Research (UXR) — Analyzing business goals, understanding user needs, and identifying competitors to uncover opportunities; synthesizing these insights to inform UX strategies and guide evidence-based design decisions
- User Experience Design (UX) — Researching and advocating the needs of people who will be using technologies, prototyping digital products, and working with agile methodologies
- User Interface Design (UI) — Using tools, like the Adobe Creative Suite, to create visual experiences for technology products
- Interaction Design (IxD) — The design of behaviors, animations, and sounds for digital products
- Full Stack Development — Programming the code (HTML/CSS, JavaScript, PHP/MySQL, etc.) that makes products work in a variety of media (websites, apps, augmented and virtual reality, Internet of Things, etc.)
- Information Architecture (IA) — Organizing and planning information systems for digital products
- Content Strategy — The planning, creation, delivery, and governance of content, including text and imagery
- Project Management — Managing work flows to keep teams on track

As a freshman, you learn the basics of User Experience Research, User Experience Design, user Interface Design and Interaction Design. In sophomore year, you learn the coding and development skills to bring those designs to life. The pre-junior, junior and senior studies are focused on electives and interdisciplinary teamwork. In our 5-year sequence you will also have the opportunity for 3 six-month full-time work experiences within a company through Drexel's Cooperative Education program, and your capstone project will result in a full-scale, industry-level product launch.

By the end of this program, you'll have real-world experience, an enviable portfolio, and the highly adaptable skills to find your way in the uncertain, ever-evolving world of tech.

Co-op cycles may vary. Students are assigned a co-op cycle (fall/winter, spring/summer, summer-only) based on their co-op program (4-year, 5-year) and major.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Co-op/Career Opportunities

Students who study User Experience and Interaction Design can move on to careers as web designers, graphic designers, digital media designers, user research and experience specialists, multimedia artists, interactive designers, web programmers, and web user interface designers.

Co-op Experiences

Some past co-op employers of User Experience and Interaction Design students include:

- Academy of Natural Sciences
- Adobe
- Amazon
- COMCAST
- Craft
- CSL Behring
- EPAM
- Google
- Microsoft
- Neuroflow
- Night Kitchen Interactive
- Oracle
- Perpay
- Scoir
- SEPTA
- UNISYS
- Urban Outfitters
- Vanguard Group
- Wawa

Visit the Drexel Steinbright Career Development Center (<http://drexel.edu/scdc/>) webpage for more detailed information on co-op and post-graduate opportunities.

Facilities

Digital Media department facilities include a motion capture and green screen studio, a screening room, DSLR digital still cameras, HD video cameras and lighting equipment, triple boot PowerMac stations (Mac / Windows / Unix) with dual monitors, wacom tablets, game consoles, mobile devices, and two undergraduate open labs with 24/7 access.

Additionally, the program houses the RePlay Lab (<http://replay.drexel.edu/facilities.html>) in the URBN Center which is a collaborative effort between the Digital Media department and the Computer Science department (in the College of Computing & Informatics). At Drexel University, game development does not "live" in solely one department, and so mirrors the true nature of game development in commercial settings.

Program Level Outcomes

- Design aesthetically pleasing interactive user interfaces for digitally delivered content.
- Integrate server-side and consumer-side technologies into an unified experience.
- Identify and apply emerging technologies for interactive digital platforms.
- Analyze and define an interactive digital design problem, develop and assess multiple creative ideas, then justify and implement a technologically feasible solution.
- Evaluate user centered design approaches and their outcomes as applied to the development of interactive digital products.
- Construct and present effective verbal and written communications.

- Propose and implement project management plans for interactive digital media development.

Interactive Digital Media Faculty

Theo Artz, BFA (Tyler School of Art, Temple University). Associate Professor. Digital media.

Kurt Aspland, BFA (Art Center College of Design). Adjunct Instructor. Illustrator, graphic designer and creative director

John Berton Assistant Professor. Visual effects, lighting and rendering Computer-Generated Imagery (CGI)

Chester Cunan, BS (Drexel University). Adjunct Instructor.

Paul Diefenbach, PhD (University of Pennsylvania). Assistant Professor. Game development, real-time rendering.

Christopher Fernandez, BS (Drexel University). Adjunct Instructor. Designer and illustrator in the world of interactive design creating innovative, exciting digital campaigns and solutions

Jeremy Fernsler, BA (Pennsylvania State University) Program Director, Game Design & Production. Assistant Teaching Professor. Digital effects artist; compositor and animator for the feature film visual effects industry.

Troy Finamore, MS (Drexel University) Program Director, Interactive Digital Media. Assistant Teaching Professor. Advertising, design and interactivity.

Bernard Flakoff, BS (Temple University). Adjunct Instructor. Creative content and strategic analytics for innovative and advanced technology platforms

Kevin Gross, MS (Drexel University). Adjunct Instructor.

Jason Kirk, MS (Drexel University). Adjunct Instructor.

Frank J. Lee, PhD (Carnegie Mellon University). Associate Professor. Human-computer interaction; cognitive engineering and science; intelligent software agents for games and education.

Robert Lloyd, MFA (Temple University). Assistant Teaching Professor. Game development, themed entertainment and motion simulation.

David Mauriello, BA (Lafayette College). Assistant Professor. 3D modeling and animation.

Glen Muschio, PhD (Temple University). Associate Professor. Digital media, society, communication.

Kenneth Oum, MS (Drexel University). Professor. Computer interface gaming, web development, video production.

Mark Petrovich, MS (Drexel University). Adjunct Instructor.

Ryan Reed, BS (Drexel University). Adjunct Instructor.

Patrick Richardson, MS (Drexel University). Professor. Applied physics, electronics, software scripting, and physical computing.

Philip Sinatra, BS (Drexel University). Professor. Website/application programming.

Jervis Thompson, BS (Drexel University). Associate Teaching Professor. Digital media, interactive multimedia.

Michael Wagner, PhD (Vienna University of Technology) Program Director, Digital Media. Associate Professor. Educational use of digital media and computer games.

Ed Yakovich, MS (Philadelphia University). Professor. HTML/CSS/JS architecture and best practices.

Kenneth Yanoviak, BA (Temple University). Adjunct Instructor. Digital photographer

Diane Zatz Adjunct Instructor.

Jichen Zhu, PhD (Georgia Institute of Technology). Assistant Professor. Developing humanistic and interpretive framework of computational technology, particularly artificial intelligence (AI), and constructing AI-based cultural artifacts; interactive storytelling, games and software studies.

Westphal Studies Program BS

Major: Westphal Studies

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 180.0

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code: 50.0101

Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code: 27-1019

About the Program

The Westphal Studies program provides an individualized course of study initiated by a student. The student must have completed two terms of their junior year in an Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design major to be eligible for admission into this major.

A small number of students in the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design decide that their goals lie at the periphery of the major or the intersection between several majors, and would be served by more latitude than offered in the highly specified courses in their major. For these students, the Westphal Studies program major broadens future career goals and allows exploration combined with a focused exposure to a second field. It acknowledges the specialization that is characteristic of the majors in the college and the expectations of the professional fields for which our students are being prepared. Simultaneously, it recognizes the breadth and rapidly changing nature of many disciplines and permits a student who has acquired a basic working knowledge of a specific aspect of media, arts and design to investigate a clearly defined alternative.

Admission to the program is limited to currently matriculated College of Media Arts & Design students who have completed the major-intensive sophomore year and experienced a co-op placement or completed their junior-year courses. The following items are required as part of the application:

- A student-generated, individualized plan of study, developed with and signed by a member of the Westphal Studies Program Advisors Committee

- A statement in writing of the student's goals in applying to the major and the rationale of how the proposed plan of study addresses those goals
- A definition of appropriate co-operative education placement if the student has not completed a six-month employment in the field of their major

Approval by the Westphal Studies Program Advisors Committee is required for admission to the major; it is not automatic upon request. The committee must be convinced by the validity of the applicant's reasons for applying, the proposed study plan and accompanying documentation. Details about the application procedure may be obtained from the director of Westphal Studies Program.

Recommended Plan of Study

This program requires an individualized plan of study. Students sign off on this agreed-upon plan with the director of the Westphal Studies program. A student must have completed two terms of junior year in a College of Media Arts & Design major to be eligible for admission into this major.

The student, in consultation with their advisor and the director of the program, devises a personalized interdisciplinary study plan. The approved plan of study provides a rationale for the concentration and how the elective credits are to be used. This plan of study must be completed and approved before admission into the major.

Undeclared Design & Media

About the Program

The Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design offers an Undeclared Design & Media option that allows incoming high school students to explore the wide range of academic programs in our college. The program is designed as a point of entry for prospective students who know they want to study creative disciplines at Westphal but aren't sure which of our sixteen undergraduate co-op programs is right for them. It gives students the ability to enroll in their freshman year of college and take a one-year sequence of courses, comprehensive career counseling, and academic advising that will help them discover their major without losing valuable time and money. Students are required to select an appropriate major which will lead to a bachelor's degree no later than the end of spring term in the first academic year.

Major placement is subject to meeting the program's requirements and space availability in the desired program. Students in this program may not track into the Music Industry or 2+4 Architecture programs. This program is not available to transfer students.

For more information about this program, please visit the Westphal Undeclared (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/undeclared/>) web page.

Admission Requirements

The College Recruitment Office will review applications for the Undeclared option. Admissions requirements will be average Westphal requirements (GPA – 3.0 /SAT- 1100). Portfolio is optional

Animation and Visual Effects BS / Digital Media MS

Major: Animation & Visual Effects and Digital Media

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 229.0

Co-op Options: Three Co-op (Five years); One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

The program is a natural extension of our undergraduate program in Animation and Visual Effects (BS) (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/animationandvisualeffects/>) and challenges students to push beyond what's known and into what's possible through a masters of science in Digital Media (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/digitalmedia/>). It combines research with applicable skills in 21st century media applications and offers a mix of academic coursework and project-related activities in advanced digital design, including 3-D modeling, animation, interactivity, gaming and digital media history, theory, and methods.

Additional Information

To find out more about this major, visit the Westphal College's Animation & Visual Effects Major (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/ANIM/>) webpage.

Admission Requirements

Students who wish to enter the accelerated program are required to have a minimum GPA of 3.5 and between 70.0 and 120.0 credits of completed undergraduate coursework.

Acceptance into the accelerated program is decided by the program director of the Digital Media MS program in consultation with the undergraduate program director in Animation and Visual Effects as well as the Department's Graduate Admissions Committee.

Main criteria for acceptance is an evaluation of the student's prior academic performance and the student's likelihood of success within the program.

Co-op cycles may vary. Students are assigned a co-op cycle (fall/winter, spring/summer, summer-only) based on their co-op program (4-year, 5-year) and major.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

DIGM 490 and DIGM 491 are repeated three times each to complete the DIGM Capstone Senior Project sequence.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Architectural Studies BS / Construction Management MS

Major: Architectural Studies and Construction Management

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 226.0

Co-op Options: No-Co-op (Five years); One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) degree offers an introduction to architecture while affording students the flexibility to customize their studies based on their interest in the realm of design and the built environment. The program encompasses foundation courses in the applied and social sciences, the humanities, and a range of architecture courses to give students an understanding of the discipline. Introductory-level design studios are at the heart of the curriculum. They challenge students to apply knowledge acquired from these disciplines to consequential design problems.

As an art, a technical craft, and an ethical practice, architecture is the culturally responsible design and production of buildings that are functional, sustainable, inspiring, and responsive to their physical and social contexts. Students have the opportunity to reinforce their skills in the field by opting to participate in Drexel's signature co-op program. This gives students the opportunity to work in an architecture, design, or related field, either locally, nationally, or internationally. The BS in Architectural Studies program prepares students for architecture and architecture-related employment. While this program is not NAAB-accredited and does not directly prepare for architectural licensure and registration, the pre-professional Architectural Studies degree offers a foundation in the field of architecture in preparation for graduate studies or employment. It is also the ideal foundation for specialization in other related disciplines while pursuing an individualized path of interdisciplinary coursework or continuing their architectural design studies with additional studio courses.

The Master of Science in Construction Management (<https://drexel.edu/engineering/academics/graduate-programs/masters/construction-management/>) program gives professionals the opportunity to develop the multidisciplinary skills required of effective construction managers. The program focuses on training professionals to meet the challenge of increasing owner demands, tighter project delivery times and increasing regulation. The program provides the leadership skills professionals need to navigate the many daily challenges construction organizations face in successfully managing construction operations. Students are admitted to start in the Fall and the Spring terms.

Additional Information

For more information, visit the Architecture Program (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/arch/>) website.

Admission Requirements

Application for the Accelerated Degree Program must be made to the Department of Architecture, Design & Urbanism after completing 90 credits, but no more than 120 credits.

Criteria for Admission:

1. GPA of 3.0 or higher
2. Two letters of recommendation (professional or academic) that speak to the applicant's work ethic, ambition, leadership qualities, and ability to handle the rigor of the program.

3. 500 word essay on why the applicant wishes to pursue an accelerated degree, their attitude toward the interdisciplinary nature of the degree program, and insight into their professional goals.

Note: The MS in Construction Management is an online degree and therefore International Students will not be eligible for this BSMS program.

Architectural Studies BS / Design MS

Major: Architectural Studies and Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 229.0

Co-op Options: No-Co-op (Five years); One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

An Accelerated 5 year (4+1) BS/MS program Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) (ARCS) and Design MS. The two programs are in the same department and create a valuable professional pathway between design-based disciplines. Students in the ARCS/DSRE BS/MS Path will have the opportunity to explore evidence-based design (EBD) and decision-making. In this option, students will be exposed to best practices in EBD, which is often defined as design decision-making driven by research and evidence (Puccinelli, 2010). This BS/MS option seeks to give students a valuable research enhancement to their professional trajectories early in their careers.

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies degree offers an introduction to architecture while affording students the flexibility to customize their studies based on their interest in the realm of design and the built environment. The program encompasses foundation courses in the applied and social sciences, the humanities, and a range of architecture courses where students gain an understanding of the discipline. Introductory-level design studios are at the heart of the curriculum. They challenge students to apply knowledge acquired from these disciplines to consequential design problems.

As an art, a technical craft, and an ethical practice, architecture is the culturally responsible design and production of buildings that are functional, sustainable, inspiring, and responsive to their physical and social contexts. Students have the opportunity to reinforce their skills in the field by opting to participate in Drexel's signature co-op program to work full-time in an architecture or design firm or related fields, either locally, nationally, or internationally. The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies program prepares students for architecture and architecture-related employment. While this program is not NAAB-accredited and does not directly prepare for architectural licensure and registration, the pre-professional Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies degree offers a strong foundation in architecture for future graduate studies in Architecture if desired. It is also the ideal foundation to explore other related disciplines while pursuing an individualized path of interdisciplinary coursework, or to continue their architectural design studies with additional studio courses.

About the MS Design Program

The Drexel MS Design is an innovative, interdisciplinary, and distinguished evidence-based design program that will help you become a design leader in the 21st-century workplace.

Students work across multiple sectors in service design, market research, and product development to learn an evidence-based approach with a set of core design competencies taught in this program. We have studio and seminar options available to suit your experience needs. Created to serve students across all design disciplines, creatives, and those looking to make a career change, our program is a self-tailored yet structured and guided design program. This engagement-oriented program includes extensive coursework in social interest design, design-led strategy, and future-oriented technologies, preparing you to be an integral part of a development team in the design industry. Students in the program produce evidence-based thesis projects that are published through ProQuest at the completion of their degree.

This 48-credit STEM-designated program can be taken either full or part-time, we offer a range of coursework to suit all schedules, including those with full-time work commitments. With over forty successful Alumni, our diverse range of current and past self-developed student topics include circular design, assistive technologies, mental health services, shelter systems, artificial intelligence, blockchain for human uses, services for sustainable living, and healthy service, space, and product development. The program includes making, research, fabrication, collaboration, and human-centered design thinking.

Additional Information

For more information, visit the Architecture Program (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/arch/>) website.

Admission Requirements

- The admission requirements will be similar to those admitted to the Architecture Program; 1250+/- SAT scores and 3.3+/- high school GPA.
- Applicants should submit eight to 12 pieces of work in a variety of media that demonstrate a balance of technique and concept. Portfolio guidelines for the B.S. Architectural Studies will follow the current Westphal College description.
- Writing Supplement.

Transcripts: Provide official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended

Standardized Test Scores: GRE/MAT test scores are accepted and appreciated, but not required. TOEFL scores are required for international applicants or applicants who earned a degree outside the U.S. (minimum scores: 100/577/233). Scores will be reviewed based on section scores and total scores. IELTS scores may be submitted in lieu of TOEFL scores.

Essay: Please write approximately 500 words explaining your reasons for pursuing a degree from Drexel; your short-term and long-term career plans; and how your background, experience, interest, and/or values, when combined with a Drexel degree, will enable you to pursue these goals successfully.

Résumé: Please submit a resume electronically

Letters of Recommendation: Two letters of recommendation are required. To electronically request recommendations, you must list your recommenders and their contact information on your application. We advise that you follow up with your recommenders to ensure they received your recommendation request — they may need to check their junk mail folder. Additionally, it is your responsibility to confirm that your recommenders will submit letters by your application deadline and follow up with recommenders who have not completed their recommendations.

Architectural Studies BS / Interior Architecture MS

Major: Architectural Studies and Interior Architecture

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 229.0

Co-op Options: No-Co-op (Five years); One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies (p. 10) degree offers an introduction to architecture while affording students the flexibility to customize their studies based on their interest in the realm of design and the built environment. The program encompasses foundation courses in the applied and social sciences, the humanities, and a range of architecture courses where students gain an understanding of the discipline. Introductory-level design studios are at the heart of the curriculum. They challenge students to apply knowledge acquired from these disciplines to consequential design problems.

As an art, a technical craft, and an ethical practice, architecture is the culturally responsible design and production of buildings that are functional, sustainable, inspiring, and responsive to their physical and social contexts. Students have the opportunity to reinforce their skills in the field by opting to participate in Drexel's signature co-op program. The accelerated degree gives students the opportunity to work full-time in an architecture or design firm or related fields, either locally, nationally, or internationally. The BS in Architectural Studies program prepares students for employment in architecture and architecture-related fields. This degree is offered as a co-op and a non-co-op option. The degree modality is face-to-face; however, a small number of classes may be offered partially or fully in a virtual format. This allows us to attract talented experts from outside the greater Philadelphia area and provides more flexibility for students on co-op or out working in the profession.

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies is not NAAB accredited and does not directly prepare for architectural licensure and registration. The pre-professional BS in Architectural Studies degree offers a foundation in the field of architecture as preparation for continued education in a professional NAAB-accredited graduate degree program. It is also the ideal foundation for specialization in other related disciplines to pursue an individualized path through interdisciplinary coursework, or continue architectural studies with additional studio courses.

The MS Interior Architecture (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/interiorarchitecture/>) graduate program offers a post-professional degree for students with a background in interior design or architecture. The curriculum reinforces design fundamentals; advances technical skills and conceptual approaches; allows for specialization in areas such as, but not limited to health/wellness, making/fabrication, or technology/representation; and culminates in a comprehensive thesis research and design project. Comprised of 45 graduate credits, the program can be completed in 4-6 quarters. Students select from a range of studio, seminar, and elective courses to create a program tailored to their professional interests.

The program is closely affiliated with the graduate MS in Design and the MS in Urban Strategy programs within the Department of Architecture, Design & Urbanism. It provides access to graduate programs across the University. These connections allow students to engage and collaborate with experts from a variety of disciplines, preparing them to take leadership roles in the profession.

Additional Information

Admission Requirements

BS Architectural Studies:

- 1250+/- SAT scores
- 3.3+/- high school GPA
- Writing Supplement
- Applicants must submit eight to 12 pieces of work in a variety of media that demonstrate a balance of technique and concept. The portfolio should emphasize analog work. Architectural projects are not expected. CAD-based portfolios are discouraged.

Portfolio guidelines for the B.S. in Architectural Studies follow the current Westphal College description.

MS Interior Architecture

The submission of a design portfolio is required.

Admission to the program requires a first professional degree from an accredited program in interior design or a non-professional degree in architecture. Applicants with degrees in related fields or unaccredited programs who have professional experience in interior design or architecture will be considered through review of transcript and portfolio.

Applicants who do not meet the admission requirements may be recommended for the MS Interior Architecture & Design program.

INTR 699 consists of several components: a series of sketch problems, design competitions, professional experience and portfolio review. These must be completed during the two + graduate years.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

The Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies program prepares students for architecture and architecture-related employment. While this program is not NAAB-accredited and does not directly prepare for architectural licensure and registration, the pre-professional Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies degree offers a strong foundation in architecture for future graduate studies in Architecture if desired. It is also the ideal foundation to explore other related disciplines while pursuing an individualized path of interdisciplinary coursework, or to continue their architectural design studies with additional studio courses.

The MS in Urban Strategy (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/urbanstrategy/>) program is a cross-disciplinary, 45.0 credit master's degree designed to prepare students to become 21st-century urbanists equipped to collaboratively and creatively solve complex, multi-faceted urban challenges on all levels: locally, nationally, and globally. The program boasts a cross-disciplinary curriculum focused on strategy, problem solving, and collaboration in the domains of urban planning, design, health, engineering, policy, community, economic development, and sociology.

Admission Requirements

- BS Architectural Studies:
- The admission requirements will be similar to those admitted to the Architecture Program; 1250+/- SAT scores and 3.3+/- high school GPA.
 - Applicants should submit eight to 12 pieces of work in a variety of media that demonstrate a balance of technique and concept. Portfolio guidelines for the B.S. Architectural Studies will follow the current Westphal College description.
 - Writing Supplement.

MS Urban Strategy
Transcripts: Provide official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended

Standardized Test Scores: GRE/MAT test scores are accepted and appreciated, but not required. TOEFL scores are required for international applicants or applicants who earned a degree outside the U.S. (minimum scores: 100/577/233). Scores will be reviewed based on section scores and total scores. IELTS scores may be submitted in lieu of TOEFL scores.

Essay: Please write approximately 500 words explaining your reasons for pursuing a degree from Drexel; your short-term and long-term career plans; and how your background, experience, interest, and/or values, when combined with a Drexel degree, will enable you to pursue these goals successfully.

Résumé: Please submit a resume electronically

Letters of Recommendation: Two letters of recommendation are required. To electronically request recommendations, you must list your recommenders and their contact information on your application. We advise that you follow up with your recommenders to ensure they received your recommendation request — they may need to check their junk mail folder. Additionally, it is your responsibility to confirm that your recommenders will submit letters by your application deadline and follow up with recommenders who have not completed their recommendations.

Academic Experience: You must have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 in your major.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Dance BS / Education MS

Major: Dance and Teaching, Learning and Curriculum
Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) & Master of Science (MS)
Calendar Type: Quarter
Minimum Required Credits: 231.0
Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

BS/MS in Dance and Teaching, Learning and Curriculum is an accelerated degree that will allow students to pursue a BS degree in Dance (p. 28) through the Department of Performing Arts and continue for a fifth year of study to earn an MS degree in Teaching, Learning and Curriculum through the School of Education (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/schoolofeducation/teachinglearningandcurriculum/>). During the graduate portion of the program, students will complete requirements to pursue initial Pennsylvania teacher certification for grade level PreK-4.

Additional Information

For more information about this major, visit the Westphal College's Dance (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/DANC/>) webpage.

Entertainment & Arts Management BS / Business Administration MBA

Major: Entertainment & Arts Management and Business Administration
Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) & Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 228.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

Students majoring in Entertainment & Arts Management (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/entertainmentartmgmt/>) (4-year with co-op) may choose the BS in Entertainment & Arts Management/MBA accelerated degree program. This highly attractive program option combines study in the management of the arts and entertainment industries along with the MBA degree from the LeBow College of Business (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofbusiness/>). The program is designed to allow students to complete both the bachelor's degree and the MBA in five years.

Additional Information

For more information about this major, visit the College's Entertainment & Arts Management (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/eam/>) page.

Admission Requirements

Freshman applicants to the Entertainment & Arts Management program, with a combined Math and Critical Reading SAT score of 1300 and a 3.5 GPA, may apply for the BS/MBA program at the time of their initial application to Drexel University.

Current students may choose to apply to the program once they have achieved between 90.0 and 120.0 credits. All students who are accepted into the accelerated program must maintain a 3.2 GPA as an EAM undergraduate, and must submit two letters of recommendation and meet minimum GMAT requirements at the time of the application to the MBA program.

Co-op cycles may vary. Students are assigned a co-op cycle (fall/winter, spring/summer, summer-only) based on their co-op program (4-year, 5-year) and major.

COOP 101 registration is determined by the co-op cycle assigned and may be scheduled in a different term. Select students may be eligible to take COOP 001 in place of COOP 101.

BS/MBA students should take STAT 201 and FIN 301. Three (3.0) credits are satisfied by GR Free Electives.

Fashion Industry & Merchandising BS / Business Administration MBA

Major: Fashion Industry & Merchandising and Business Administration
Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Business Administration (MBA)
Calendar Type: Quarter
Minimum Required Credits: 229.0
Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

This accelerated dual degree program combines study in the areas of Fashion Industry and Merchandising (BS) (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/fashionindustrymerchandising/>) for the fashion lifestyle industries with the MBA degree in the LeBow College of Business (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofbusiness/>). The program is designed to allow students to complete both the bachelor's degree and the Master of Business Administration degree in five years.

Additional Information

Students should visit the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts and Design (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/>) for more information.

Admission Requirements

The program is offered to qualified students who apply for this option prior to the end of freshmen year or prior to the completion of 90.0 credits. All students who apply for this option must take the GMAT entrance exam. Incoming freshmen selected for this program will generally have a minimum of 1350 on the SAT, a GPA of 3.5 or better, and rank in the top 10% of their high school graduating class. A strong candidate for this program will have taken significant AP coursework while in high school.

BS/MBA students may be waived from two LeBow MBA courses, assuming a grade of B or better is earned in specified undergraduate courses. Students can review the Waiver Policies for the Statement of Curriculum Standing on the LeBow College's website for additional information. The above conditions hold only for fully accepted BS/MBA students as identified by Enrollment Management.

Fashion Industry & Merchandising BS / Design MS

Major: Fashion Industry & Merchandising and Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 229.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

Only available to Fashion Industry & Merchandising majors, this accelerated dual degree program combines study in the areas of fashion retail merchandising, buying, and product development with the MS in Design degree. The program is designed to allow students to complete both the bachelor's degree and the MS in Design degree in five years.

The interdisciplinary Master's program is ideal for design thinkers eager to create solutions for important real-world problems and focuses on providing a forum for students to pursue paths of inquiry and investigation within design, technology, social impact, community, environmental design, and health.

Additional Information

Students should visit the Westphal College of Media Arts and Design (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/>) for more information.

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate baccalaureate degree in or related to design with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 (B) for undergraduate work.

Applying to the Master's degree

Must Apply between 90-120 Credits

Academic Experience: You must have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 in your major.

Essay: Please write approximately 500 words explaining your reasons for pursuing the MS in Design degree from Drexel; your short-term and long-term career plans; and how your background, experience, interest, and/or values, when combined with a Drexel degree, will enable you to pursue these goals successfully. Submit to Program Director.

Résumé: Please submit a resume electronically. Submit to Program Director.

Letters of Recommendation: Two letters of recommendation are required. Submit to Program Director. Additionally, it is your responsibility to confirm that your recommenders will submit letters by your application deadline and follow up with recommenders who have not completed their recommendations.

Game Design and Production BS / Digital Media MS

Major: Game Design and Production & Digital Media

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) & Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 236.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years); Three Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

The program is a natural extension of our undergraduate program in Game Design and Production (BS) (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/gamedesignandproduction/>) and challenges students to push beyond what's known and into what's possible through a masters of science in Digital Media (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/digitalmedia/>). It combines research with applicable skills in 21st century media applications and offers a mix of academic coursework and project-related activities in advanced digital design, including 3-D modeling, animation, interactivity, gaming, and digital media history, theory, and methods.

Additional Information

To find out more about this major, visit the Westphal College's Game Design & Production Major (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/GDAP/>) page.

Admission Requirements

Students who wish to enter the accelerated program are required to have a minimum GPA of 3.5 and between 70.0 and 120.0 credits of completed undergraduate coursework.

Acceptance into the accelerated program is decided by the program director of the Digital Media MS program in consultation with the undergraduate program director in Game Design and Production, as well as the Department's Graduate Admissions Committee.

Main criteria for acceptance is an evaluation of the student's prior academic performance and the student's likelihood of success within the program.

DIGM 490 and DIGM 491 are repeated three times each to complete the DIGM Capstone Senior Project sequence.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid “clustering” these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

Interior Design BS / Design MS

Major: Interior Design and Design Research

Degrees Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 229.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

This five-year path allows students to graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Interior Design, enhanced by a Master of Science in Design. Preparing them for an evidence-based, human-centered, technology-driven professional career.

The undergraduate Interior Design program explores the behavioral, technological, environmental, and aesthetic aspects of interior design within the context of increasingly more complex design projects. Combined with art, art history, and general education requirements, a core of interior design courses creates a unique education at the forefront of design. Through academics grounded in problem-solving design studios, cooperative employment, and a dedicated faculty, the Interior Design program prepares students for leadership positions in the industry. The Interior Design program is consistently ranked among the top programs in the country, as noted in Design Intelligence's "America's Best Design Schools" survey.

The BS interior design program is accredited by both CIDA (Council for Interior Design Accreditation) and NASAD (National Association of Schools of Art and Design).

The Design Master's program, which is NASAD-accredited, creates an arena for advanced students to explore and enhance their skills in evidence-based design. Particularly in areas that include Human Centered Design, Environmental Design, and Health, including Community-Based Participatory Design. Driven by the interdisciplinary nature of design, the program addresses the emerging and complex designed environment through a lens of research and practice. Designers operate in a world of increasing complexity; this degree provides candidates with a greater depth of knowledge and experience in topics relevant to present and future challenges in design.

The program focuses on providing a forum for students to pursue paths of inquiry and investigation within the fields of Interiors, Technology, Environmental Design, and Health. This flexible program operates with a core curriculum that is built on and augmented by a customized set of electives and the second-year thesis sequence.

Admission Requirements

Must Apply between 90-120 Credits

Academic Experience: You must have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 in your major.

Essay: Please write approximately 500 words explaining your reasons for pursuing the MS degree from Drexel; your short-term and long-term career plans; and how your background, experience, interest, and/or values, when combined with a Drexel degree, will enable you to pursue these goals successfully. Submitted to Program Director.

Résumé: Please submit a resume electronically. Submitted to the Program Director.

Letters of Recommendation: Two letters of recommendation are required. Submitted to Program Director. Additionally, it is your responsibility to confirm that your recommenders will submit letters by your application deadline and follow up with recommenders who have not completed their recommendations.

Applicants apply in Spring of their Sophomore year and must be approved by both program directors.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid “clustering” these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Interior Design BS / Interior Architecture MS

Major: Interior Design and Interior Architecture

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) & Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 226.0

Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

The BS Interior Design / MS Interior Architecture program offers a first-professional degree in interior design and a post-professional graduate degree for students looking to accelerate their career and/or specialize in an area of interior design. The BS Interior Design program explores the behavioral, technological, environmental and aesthetic aspects of interior design within the context of increasingly more complex design projects. Combined with art and art history and general education requirements, a core of interior design courses is completed along with a 6-month professional co-op. This undergraduate education prepares students to enter the interior design industry.

The MS Interior Architecture program reinforces design fundamentals; advances technical skills and conceptual approaches; allows for specialization in areas such as health/wellness, making/fabrication, or technology/representation; and culminates in a comprehensive thesis research and design project. Students select from a range of studio, seminar, and elective courses to create a program tailored to their professional interest.

Additional Information

For more information about this program, visit the College's Interior Design (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/INTR/>) webpage.

Admission Requirements

Application for the Accelerated Degree Program must be made to the Department of Architecture, Design & Urbanism and the Office of Graduate Studies after completing 90.0 credits, but no more than 120.0 credits.

Criteria for Admission

- Overall GPA of undergraduate coursework – 3.2 minimum
- Overall GPA in interior design studio coursework – 3.5 minimum
- Portfolio Review – interior studio work and other visual work from other design courses
- Essay – Address reason for application, attitude towards profession, professional goals and leadership qualities you possess
- Two letters of recommendation speaking about your work ethic and leadership skills.

Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Interior Design BS / Urban Strategy MS

Major: Interior Design and Urban StrategyDegrees Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Science (MS)Calendar Type: QuarterMinimum Required Credits: 226Co-op Options: One Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

This five-year path allows students to graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Interior Design, enhanced by a Master of Science in Urban Strategy, preparing them to problem solve and collaborate in the domains of urban planning, design, health, policy, community and economic development.

The Bachelor of Science in Interior Design program explores the behavioral, technological, environmental and aesthetic aspects of interior design within the context of increasingly more complex design projects. Combined with art and art history and general education requirements, a core of interior design courses creates a unique education at the forefront of design. Through academics grounded in problem-solving design studios, cooperative employment and a dedicated faculty, the Interior Design program prepares students for leadership positions in the industry. The Interior Design program is consistently ranked among the top programs in the country, and in the survey by Design Intelligence of "America's Best Design Schools."

The BS interior design program is CIDA (Council for Interior Design Accreditation) and NASAD (National Association of Schools of Art & Design) accredited.

The MS in Urban Strategy program is a cross-disciplinary, 45.0 credit master's degree designed to prepare students to become 21st century urbanists equipped to collaboratively and creatively solve complex multi-faceted urban challenges on all levels: locally, nationally and globally. The program boasts a cross-disciplinary curriculum focused on strategy, problem solving and collaboration in the domains of urban planning, design, health, engineering, policy, community and economic development and sociology.

Admission Requirements

Transcripts: Provide official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended

Standardized Test Scores: GRE/MAT test scores are accepted and appreciated, but not required. TOEFL scores are required for international applicants or applicants who earned a degree outside the U.S. (minimum scores: 100/577/233). Scores will be reviewed based on section scores and total scores. IELTS scores may be submitted in lieu of TOEFL scores.

Essay: Please write approximately 500 words explaining your reasons for pursuing a degree from Drexel; your short-term and long-term career plans; and how your background, experience, interest, and/or values, when combined with a Drexel degree, will enable you to pursue these goals successfully.

Résumé: Please submit a resume electronically

Letters of Recommendation: Two letters of recommendation are required. To electronically request recommendations, you must list your recommenders and their contact information on your application. We advise that you follow up with your recommenders to ensure they received your recommendation request — they may need to check their junk mail folder. Additionally, it is your responsibility to confirm that your recommenders will submit letters by your application deadline and follow up with recommenders who have not completed their recommendations.

Academic Experience: You must have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 in your major.

Music Industry BS / Business MBA

Major: Music Industry and Business Administration

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) and Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 230.0

Co-op Options: Two Co-ops (Five years)

About the Program

The BS in Music Industry/MBA program offers students a program that combines an undergraduate degree in music business and technology with an MBA degree awarded by the Drexel LeBow College of Business. The program is designed to allow students to complete both the BS and the Master of Business Administration degree in five years.

The program is offered to qualified students who apply for this option prior to the end of freshmen year or prior to the completion of 90.0 credits. All students who apply for this option must take the GMAT entrance exam.

Additional Information

For more information about this program, visit the College's Music Industry (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/mip/>) page.

Admission Requirements

Students selected for this program will generally have a minimum of 1350 on the SAT, a GPA of 3.5 or better, and rank in the top 10% of their high school graduating class. A strong candidate for this program will have taken significant AP coursework while in high school.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

User Experience & Interaction Design BS / Design MS

Major: User Experience & Interaction Design and Design

Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) & Master of Science (MS)

Calendar Type: Quarter

Minimum Required Credits: 232.0

Co-op Options: Three Co-ops (Six years)

About the Program

The MS in Design is a natural extension to the undergraduate User Experience & Interaction Design (UXID) degree, preparing graduates to thrive in the rapidly changing technology industry.

In the UXID program, students build a solid foundation in user-centered design, starting with UX research and design, then adding coding and development skills, and finally refining their understanding of user experience design in cooperative experiences that integrate classroom learning with real-world projects.

The MS in Design builds on this foundation, offering a flexible, evidence-based approach to advanced design practice. Students learn how to combine research, strategy, and creative problem-solving to address complex challenges across industries. With a self-tailored curriculum and a strong focus on social impact, sustainability, and future technologies, the program empowers students to become leaders in design innovation.

Together, this BS/MS pathway blends hands-on experience, interdisciplinary collaboration, and rigorous research. Graduates emerge ready to create human-centered solutions that shape the future—whether in tech, product development, or emerging fields at the intersection of design and technology.

Additional Information

For more information about the BS UXID program, please contact Troy Finamore at twf23@drexel.edu.

For more information about the MS Design program, please contact Diana Nicholas at dsn35@drexel.edu.

Admission Requirements

Students who wish to enter the accelerated program are required to have a minimum GPA of 3.5 and between 70 and 120 credits of completed undergraduate coursework.

Acceptance into the accelerated program is decided by the program director of the Design MS program in consultation with the undergraduate program director in Interactive Digital Media as well as the Department’s Graduate Admissions Committee.

Main criterium for acceptance is an evaluation of the student’s prior academic performance and the student’s likelihood of success within the program.

User Experience and Interaction Design BS / Digital Media MS

Major: User Experience and Interaction Design and Digital Media
Degree Awarded: Bachelor of Science (BS) & Master of Science (MS)
Calendar Type: Quarter
Minimum Required Credits: 229.0
Co-op Options: Three Co-op (Five years)

About the Program

The program is a natural extension of our undergraduate program in User Experience & Interaction Design (BS) (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/undergraduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/userexperienceandinteractiondesign/>) and challenges students to push beyond what's known and into what's possible, through an MS in Digital Media (<https://catalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofmediaartsanddesign/digitalmedia/>). It combines research with applicable skills in 21st century media applications and offers a mix of academic coursework and project-related activities in advanced digital design, including 3D modeling, animation, interactivity, gaming and digital media history, theory and methods.

Additional Information

For more information about the BS UXID program, please contact Troy Finamore at twf23@drexel.edu.

For more information about the MS Digital Media program, please contact Emil Polyak at ep557@drexel.edu.

Admission Requirements

Students who wish to enter the accelerated program are required to have a minimum GPA of 3.5 and between 70 and 120 credits of completed undergraduate coursework.

Acceptance into the accelerated program is decided by the program director of the Digital Media MS program in consultation with the undergraduate program director in Interactive Digital Media as well as the Department's Graduate Admissions Committee.

Main criterium for acceptance is an evaluation of the student's prior academic performance and the student's likelihood of success within the program.

UXID 391 and UXID 392 are repeated to complete the UXID Senior Project sequence.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Minor in Animation and Visual Effects

About the Minor

The Animation and Visual Effects Minor requires the completion of eight courses (minimum 24.0 credits). The minor provides basic foundation in the technological, storytelling, and design skills used by 3D animators and visual effects artists in the highly competitive entertainment and design worlds, with the opportunity for individualized tailoring according to the student's interests.

For more information about this minor, please visit the Westphal minors (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/minors/>) web page.

Minor in Architecture

About the Minor

A minor in Architecture offers students majoring in other disciplines the opportunity to explore architecture through a coherent sequence of coursework. The minor in Architecture can be used for preparation towards professional graduate study in this field. The minor requires design studio courses, courses in architectural history, and architectural elective courses. No more than 9.0 credits from a student's major can be used to fulfill the minor requirements. Interested students should consult the Architecture program director for course selection and scheduling.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "W" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). Minor in Entertainment & Arts Management

About the Minor

Drexel's Entertainment & Arts Management (EAM) minor program gives students an introduction to the challenging industry of entertainment and arts business. The selected curriculum gives students a basis in entertainment finance, promotion, business planning, intellectual property rights, cultural literacy, and artist representation. Students in Drexel's EAM minor do not choose concentrations but rather take a core selection of classes and then select nine hours of electives in order to customize their learning.

The EAM minor is open to all undergraduate students in the Drexel University system; no prerequisites are required but departmental approval is needed.

Interested students should contact EAM professor Dr. Brea Heidelberg at bmh29@drexel.edu to schedule a meeting to discuss adding the EAM minor.

Minor in Film Studies

About the Minor

The Minor in Film Studies comprises courses that cover the major artistic and institutional developments in cinema from its late-nineteenth-century origins to the present. As these courses cover a variety of critical topics that are essential to any film studies curriculum—such as the study of major genres and auteurs, and the technologies and techniques contributing to the development of the medium, as well as the historical circumstances that influenced the cinema's evolution since its inception—they will establish a sound critical foundation for students to choose and to flourish in the subsequent courses required for the minor.

The Minor in Film Studies is open to all University students.

Minor in Fine Arts

About the Minor

The Fine Arts minor enables students to develop skills and concepts in the studio arts. Students in studio courses learn to combine skills in using tools and materials, visual theoretical concepts, and new technologies, all of which are necessary for design professionals.

To be eligible for the minor in Fine Arts, a student must have completed a minimum of 30.0 undergraduate credits, have a declared major, and have a minimum GPA of 2.7. The academic credit requirements for the minor must be completed at or before the time of graduation.

Basic design prerequisite courses are required for many programs in Westphal College and some of these may already have been taken for a student's major; however, only 9.0 credits of major-related coursework can be applied to the credits required for the minor in Fine Arts. Students with design credits from other schools or departments may be allowed to apply them to their prerequisite requirements only upon review by the Fine Arts minor faculty advisor.

Minor in Game Design & Production

About the Minor

The minor in Game Design & Production requires the completion of 24.0 credits. This flexible minor provides a foundation of general game development experiences and allows students to focus on a specific skill specialty through their choice of classes.

The first 9.0 credits of courses form a foundation of skills in basic scripting, familiarity with a variety of game engines, and an overview of the industry and game development process. The next 9.0 credits of courses build the student's technical knowledge and offer team-based project opportunities. The last 6.0 credits of elective courses allow a student to focus on a select digital content creation skill in the game development space.

Admission Requirements

The Game Design & Production minor is open to students with a minimum GPA of 3.0.

For more information, please visit the Westphal minors (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/minors/>) web page. You can learn more about the Game Design & Production major here (<https://drexel.edu/westphal/academics/undergraduate/GDAP/>), including samples of work created by student and alum.

Minor in Graphic Design

About the Minor

The Graphic Design minor features individualized investigation of medium, content, context, and technology. It emphasizes critical thinking, analytical reasoning, written and oral communication skills, integrity, and ethics while instructing technology as a tool.

The minor offers coursework focusing on the connection between graphic design and technology with instruction in digital design tools, composition, corporate identity, typography, publication design, and photography. Recommended electives include Typography II, Motion Graphics I, Computer Imaging 2, Web Graphics I, Drawing, and Design History.

The Graphic Design minor is available to all Drexel University students and requires the completion of seven courses for a minimum of 25.0 credits. The Graphic Design minor takes 2+ years to complete.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Minor in Merchandising

About the Minor

The Merchandising Minor, administered by the Fashion Industry & Merchandising program, provides core foundations for the fashion lifestyle industries including retail, ecommerce and wholesale operations, buying and merchandise planning. Students develop key competencies in brand strategy from concept to consumer including marketplace research, competitive analysis, retail math, assortment planning, product sourcing, inventory allocation and merchandising analytics. The curriculum allows the opportunity for individualized tailoring with course options in special topics including Sustainability & the Circular Economy, Beauty Merchandising, Retail Globalization, Immersive Media & Merchandising and Fashion Merchandising Leadership. The minor is open to all Drexel University students and requires the completion of eight or nine courses for a minimum of 25.0 credits. Students will need at least 2 years to complete the minor requiring enrollment by the start of the Junior year.

All courses are currently open to all Fashion Industry & Merchandising students. DSMR 231 and DSMR 232 are required for all students enrolled in the Merchandising minor. Elective courses are offered only in certain quarters. Students are required to submit an approved plan of study with the minor advisor. All courses will be restricted to appropriately include the students enrolled in the Merchandising minor. As the industry and curriculum change, courses will be added and adapted accordingly.

NOTE: The minor was built to accommodate students from outside the major. Major students cannot do a major and a minor in the same field of study.

Additional Information

For more information about this major, visit the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts and Design (<http://www.drexel.edu/westphal/>) for more information.page.

Minor in Photography

About the Minor

The minor in Photography gives students a thorough understanding of photographic practices using a combination of aesthetics and technology.

This flexible minor has been developed to accommodate both Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design majors as well as majors from any other college. It is an excellent choice for students who are majoring in marketing, communications, and journalism. Many employers in these fields now routinely request that candidates have a good working knowledge of Photoshop and photographic practices.

Minor in Playwriting

About the Minor

The minor in Playwriting is intended to guide students from the acquisition of foundational playwriting skills through the completion of a full-length stage play. Fifteen of the credits are directly craft-oriented, teaching students what they need to know to translate their ideas into a format suitable for production on the stage; the other 9.0 credits are dedicated to background knowledge intended to inform creative thinking and develop a student's individual voice.

Students pursuing a Theater minor should note that common courses in the Playwriting minor make this course of study a relatively simple addition to their education.

The Playwriting minor is open to all students in the University.

Minor in Product Design

About the Minor

Students in this minor—through a combination of three studio courses and four applied lecture courses—learn to combine skills in creative problem solving with a visual and human-centered product design process. Students develop product concepts and collaborate on the development of product ideas, including the creation and integration of new technologies, sustainability, healthcare, and socially responsible design, all of which are beneficial for design professionals.

The minor is specifically created to offer students a unique multi-disciplinary studio experience. Students will develop skills in the rapid visualization of ideas, creative problem solving, transformative design thinking and an understanding of the product development process in a collaborative setting. This minor is offered to all students having an interest in developing product ideas, including students from the College of Engineering, the LeBow College of Business, the School of Biomedical Engineering, as well as Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design students who want to add a product focus to their design degree.

Academic Requirements

To be eligible for the minor in Product Design, a student must have completed a minimum of 30.0 undergraduate credits, have declared a major, and have a minimum GPA of 3.0. No prerequisite courses are required. A Spring/Summer co-op cycle is needed to enroll in required minor courses and the program will assist students to make a co-op cycle switch if necessary. Only upon review by the faculty advisor for the minor will students with design credits from other institutions or departments be allowed to apply these to the requirements.

Minor in Screenwriting

About the Minor

The minor in Screenwriting is intended to guide students from the acquisition of foundational screenwriting skills through the completion of a full-length script for film or television. Fifteen of the credits are directly craft-oriented, teaching students what they need to know to translate their ideas into a format suitable for production; the other 9.0 credits are dedicated to background knowledge intended to inform creative thinking and develop a student's individual voice.

Film & Television majors should note that they will be taking half of the courses in the Screenwriting minor as part of their degree requirements, making this minor a relatively simple addition to their education.

Minor in Somatics

About the Minor

An understanding of both our bodies and how we experience them has become increasingly important across many fields; in communication, corporate training, movement therapy, education, performance, rehabilitation, sport and fitness. Physical health, clear communication and effective leadership all rely on an awareness of how we carry our bodies through our lives. The Somatics Minor provides an in-depth study of the body, building from an understanding of its functional/structural basis, to its patterns and habits. We focus on how to interpret, analyze, and articulate somatic concepts and develop strategies for application.

Minor in Sustainability in the Built Environment

About the Minor

The intent of the Sustainability in the Built Environment (SBE) minor is to prepare students to engage and analyze future design challenges from a sustainability and climate perspective. The SBE minor seeks to use active and experiential learning around regenerative concepts, along with an examination of industry practices. In addition, students examine the impacts and amplifications of industry practices on climate, health, and urban resilience. Students completing this program will be able to approach these challenges in a resourceful and insightful way with a solid foundation in sustainability principles. The emphasis on collaboration and transdisciplinary teamwork will allow students to serve as agile leaders in their future careers and be active participants in the critical discourse of their field.

In addition to the 15.0 credits of core courses, students select 9.0 credits of electives. The list below will be updated as new courses in sustainability become available. Students having a question about the inclusion of a course not currently listed as a possible elective should check with the coordinator for this minor.

Minor in User Experience and Interaction Design

About the Minor

The User Experience & Interaction Design minor requires the completion of eight courses (minimum 24.0 credits). The minor provides basic foundations in UX Research, UX Design, and front end development (HTML/CSS), as applied to the design of digital interfaces (websites and mobile applications). This minor offers the opportunity for individualized tailoring according to the student's interests. It is open to all University students and is administered and advised by the User Experience & Interaction Design program.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must pass three writing-intensive courses after their freshman year. Two writing-intensive courses must be in a student's major. The third can be in any discipline. Students are advised to take one writing-intensive class each year, beginning with the sophomore year, and to avoid "clustering" these courses near the end of their matriculation. Transfer students need to meet with an academic advisor to review the number of writing-intensive courses required to graduate.

A "WI" next to a course in this catalog may indicate that this course can fulfill a writing-intensive requirement. For the most up-to-date list of writing-intensive courses being offered, students should check the Writing Intensive Course List (<https://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/faculty-programs/#writing-intensive-list>) at the University Writing Program (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/>). (<http://drexel.edu/coas/academics/departments-centers/english-philosophy/university-writing-program/drexel-writing-center/>) Students scheduling their courses can also conduct a search for courses with the attribute "WI" to bring up a list of all writing-intensive courses available that term.

Minor in Virtual Reality & Immersive Media

About the Minor

The design and production of Virtual Reality (VR), Augmented Reality (AR), 360° Video and other Immersive Media formats requires a unique skill set—creative thinking, understanding of design, aesthetic sensitivity, and story telling are balanced with technical knowledge in areas such as 3D Computer Graphics, Animation, Visual Effects, interactivity, digital camera and image processing technologies. Additionally, critical thinking, the ability to collaborate effectively and communication skills are also integral to success in this rapidly expanding industry.

Drexel's Minor in Virtual Reality & Immersive Media provides a foundation in the principles, techniques and tools used in the design and production of virtual reality, augmented reality (VR/AR) and other forms of Immersive Media, with the opportunity for individualized tailoring according to the student's interests.

Admission Requirements

Open to students with a 3.0 GPA.
